Disaster and Death Came to Brothers While They Slept in Their Frail Home Near Empire.

PASSING TOWBOAT SMASHED THEIR ABODE

Caught like rats in a trap, Albert and Herbert Kirkbride, brothers, aged 21 and 19, respectively, were suffered to die a most horrible death between 12 and 1 o'clock this morning at Akeyville, about a mile above Empire. The two young men were drowned after being crushed in a terrible manner by the collision of a towboat with a shanty boat in which they were sleeping.

It is not known what towboat crushed them, but it is thought it was either the Coal City or the Tom Lysie. Both of these boats passed Empire shortly before the accident occurred. The young men were employees of the sewer pipe works at Empire and "barged" in a house boat at Akeyville. It is presumed that they went to bed early last evening and that both were in a sound sleep, perfectly unconscious of any impending danger, when one of the big boats crashed into their shanty boat and smashed it into kindling wood.

Awakened by the collision it is supposed the ill-fated men made a desperate effort to escape death, but their boat being so badly crippled and stationed some distance out from the bank, they were doomed and were pushed below the surface of the murky waters. People living in the vicinity say they heard loud cries at about the time of the accident and it is supposed they came from the drowning men.

Discovery of their awful fate was not made until this morning when some man noticed that only a part of their boat was tied to the bank. Inquiry was immediately made, but no one knew anything of the brothers and the supposition was readily reached that they had been drowned, everything being indicative of that. Friends of the young men are at a loss to know why the towboatmen did not stop and investigate the damage which they certainly should have known was done. After night, though, a tow boat can collide with a frail shanty boat and the occurrence may never be known by any on board the former.

The young men are survived by a father and sister, living at Leechburg, Pa., one brother at Port Homer and a brother at Pittsburg.

The bodies of the brothers had not been recovered at a late hour this afternoon.

The Result Expected at the Republican Primaries In This City.

LIST OF POLLING PLACES

In spite of the claim made by many people that the primary election being held in Columbiana county today would be void of interest, there are sections of the county where the hottest fight in years is being waged over the selection of delegates to the county convention at Lisbon tomorrow. Because the list of delegates from Liverpool township is complete without opposition, it must not be gathered that things will be so easy in other parts of the county.

In Washington, Perry, St. Clair, Center and many other townships the battle is spirited, and it will be a doubtful proposition as to who will win in many of these districts until the very last vote is counted tonight.

The representation from the 13 townships of the county was figured out by the News Review with the aid of George Walton, of the county board of election supervisors, soon after the delegate system was adopted, and has been approved by the county executive committee. The official list is as follows:

CHIEF WYMAN SERIOUSLY ILL

SUFFERING FROM VIOLENT ATTACK OF HEMORRHAGES.

Blood Vessel in His Throat Supposed to Have Been Ruptured—Is Kept Perfectly Quiet.

Chief of Police John W. Wyman lies critically ill at his home, lower Sixth street. He is suffering as the result of hemorrhages, caused by a peculiar accident, and has lost from a pint to a quart of blood in three attacks. Dr. F. M. Laughlin is attending him.

While stooping over to tie a shoe string, Mr. Wyman felt an itching sensation in his throat and before arising coughed several times very violently. A vessel in his throat was burst at that time, but whether it was due to the coughing or something else is not known. The accident occurred Wednesday and for hours he spit blood in small quantities and at about 1 o'clock that night over a pint of blood flowed from his throat.

Dr. Laughlin was summoned and ordered him to go to bed and stay there, remaining perfectly quiet. Visitors are refused admittance to the sick room. Dr. Laughlin thinks that unless something unforeseen develops the patient will recover.

Japanese Scouts Return to Seoul and Report Big Force South of the Stream.

Seoul, March 25.—(Special.)—Japanese scouts who have returned from an expedition along the Yalu river report that the Russians are in greater force there than was thought.

Board of Health Meeting.

A most important meeting of the board of health will be held this evening at the city hall. The sanitary officer will make a report on the general condition of the city and Health Officer Ogden will submit his monthly report. Bills for the month will be ordered paid and numerous other matters of interest will be up.

Crushed His Legs.

Joseph Turk, of Wellsville, an employee of the C. & P. railroad, was badly injured a short time after noon today, while unloading rails from a car near the United States pottery. One end of the rails fell across his legs, mashing them severely. He was removed by the patrol to the home of William Green, on Twelfth street.

SOME STRIKING FACES IN THE ROGUES' GALLERY

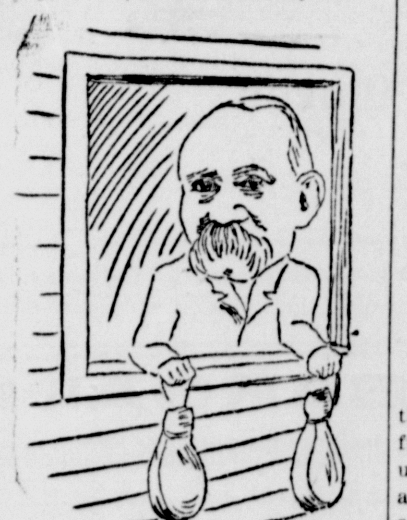

A Remarkable Collection of Portraits of East Liverpool Talent Now Publicly Exhibited For the First Time.

When Bertillon perfected his system of measurements to such an extent that a criminal, once in the toils, could never conceal his identity, the Rogues' Gallery became an important adjunct of every police department in the country. To be measured and photographed under this system is to be marked a criminal for life and the average law breaker submits to the operation with about as much grace as a Texas yearling when the red hot branding iron sears the name of the ranch owner in its hide.

Under these circumstances it would seem strange that the portraits of about 50 of East Liverpool's best known citizens now adorn the walls of such a gallery in this city while the originals are at large and point with pride to the faithful work of the camera in exposing their Jekyll and Hyde existence.

The visitor to the rogues' gallery, now on exhibition at the new hospital, must be prepared for several shocks, for before leaving the room his confidence in humanity is doomed to receive a sudden jolt on seeing the picture of some respected friend or neighbor in the act of looting the hen roost of a fellow citizen.

The faces here presented have not been passed upon by local experts in criminology, but the various types presented are worthy of study and in some cases of emulation. Clothes don't always make the man, but garments often go a long way toward giving him the appearance of a criminal or a preacher, as the case may be.

Hon. J. J. Purinton, East Liverpool's successful financier, is also caught in a peculiar position. He is a man of big ideas and it would be just like him to outgrow the porch climbing business and grow to such proportions that he could reach into a third-story window with ease. But as the building in this case is intended to represent the proposed new home of the Potters Building & Loan association no harm is intended and his portrait must have been placed in the "rogues' gallery" by mistake, as he quit working at the trade some time ago.

Does the above conform to your opinion of Hon. Jacob Shenkel, board of service member, retired merchant and staid citizen? The picture is there. See for yourself. It plainly shows the respected citizen making his exit from a neighbor's smoke house accompanied by a pair of hams.

The picture is not quite so clear at first glance. The fact that the figure

A Tour of State Hospitals.

Columbus, March 25.—(Special.)—The house committee on insane hospitals, of which Mr. Hill, of Columbiana, in the center of the track is intended for Monroe Patterson is plain enough, but his attitude is perplexing. He may intend holding up the conductor of the car, or perhaps he is digging into his pocket for a nickel, or a restraining order, to hand the official of the new line.

The picture of 'Squire McCarron would never have been added to the gallery had W. A. Weaver been defeated for mayor. Business prior to that time was flourishing in the justice's court, but a 'squire now has a hard time to get even so much as a marriage ceremony to perform, and this topped off many times with only a "thank ye, mister," is quite enough to induce any man, married or single, to depart from the life of an honorable citizen.

He was once in politics, but there wasn't enough money in it for him, so he got out and became a bank president. He is always "Owen," though nobody ever complains that he is hard to collect from.

Hospital Bazaar Was the Mecca For Hundreds of People Yesterday Afternoon and Evening.

The hospital bazaar opened yesterday under the most favorable circumstances, and with all the arrangements and details carried out successfully, the ladies of the city who have been assisting the Hospital association acquitted themselves with great credit.

It is a satisfaction to the public at large and especially to the general committee having in charge the bazaar, of which Mrs. N. A. ## LANDED IN JAIL FOR WIFE-BEATING Junk Dealer John Miller Sold An Old Horse and Got Drunk on the Money.

John Miller, the junk dealer, who was arrested last week with Duff Call, both on a charge of stealing iron from the Globe pottery, and who was released yesterday afternoon upon the payment of a fine of $15, was landed in jail again last evening and it is very likely he will have another experience with bread and water.

Miller secured the money to pay his fine for the stealing by selling an old horse for $20. Just as soon as he was allowed to breathe the fresh air he was so tickled that he thought it was exactly the right time to jolly, especially when he had about $5 in his pockets. As a rule so much money would have no effect on Miller. He has been accustomed to drinking a gallon more whisky than a bill of that denomination could be exchanged for, but in this instance his system was free from the spirituous effect and seven glasses sent him far into the air.

While he was yet in jail he formed a hatred for his wife because she could not sell his horse and get his release and when the booze got into his hair the first person he thought of was her. And to their home out California hollow he tramped. It is said that a lively seance followed. Miller is alleged to have given his wife a sound beating and run every other person in the house to the nearby hills. Officers Woods and Bryan were called and they put a quietus on the scene by trotting Miller off to jail. The mayor gave him a healthy fine this morning and will keep him locked up until it is paid.

Thomas Ligonier, a traveling salesman of Detroit, Mich., was arrested yesterday afternoon for being drunk. He was a smooth talker and soon gained his release by promising to remain in the town until tomorrow and then settle a bill of $5. He had been released but a few hours when he was found dead to the world, lying prostrate across the track at the depot by Officer Dawson. The man had a hard time prevailing on the mayor this morning, but was allowed to go.

Miller is alleged to have given his wife a sound beating and run every other person in the house to the nearby hills. Officers Woods and Bryan were called and they put a quietus on the scene by trotting Miller off to jail. The mayor gave him a healthy fine this morning and will keep him locked up until it is paid.

Thomas Ligonier, a traveling salesman of Detroit, Mich., was arrested yesterday afternoon for being drunk. He was a smooth talker and soon gained his release by promising to remain in the town until tomorrow and then settle a bill of $5. He had been released but a few hours when he was found dead to the world, lying prostrate across the track at the depot by Officer Dawson. The man had a hard time prevailing on the mayor this morning, but was allowed to go.

A man by the name of Carl was reported to the police last evening for whipping his wife. It is said Carl went

PECULIAR STRIKE.

Now that the strike at the Barborton pottery has been settled, or rather submitted to the standing committee for settlement, the management is making an effort to start work at once. The operatives who left Barborton after the strike had been declared have been notified to return and several of them left this city yesterday afternoon. Work in some of the departments was commenced today. As a number of the operatives found other situations during the several months the plant was idle, not all of the old force will return.

The strike was peculiar in several respects. A new manager who succeeded Mr. Cartwright installed a registering device and required all the employees, whether piece or day workers, to register when starting or leaving work. For several reasons this was objected to by the men. One of the reasons was that as most of the

CONGREGATION TO MEET

Members of Second Presbyterian Congregation Will Elect Officers Next Wednesday Night.

Announcement is made that the annual congregational meeting of the Second Presbyterian church will be held next Wednesday evening. Every member of the congregation is being urged to attend as matters of importance are to come up for consideration. During the past year the church has prospered materially and the reports of the officers will be full of interest. Owing to the increase in membership and the full attendance at the church services the present edifice will soon be found too small and either it will be enlarged or a new one erected.

At the meeting Wednesday night, trustees, a secretary and treasurer and other officials will be chosen.

Pastry Sale Tomorrow.

The Ladies' Aid society of the Erie street Methodist church have arranged for a pie, cake and bread sale to be held tomorrow afternoon in the building occupied by Green's restaurant at the corner of Mulberry street and Pennsylvania avenue. The ladies have donated a large amount of fine parties which will be offered for sale. The sale will commence in the afternoon.

Has New Safe.

J. M. Buckle, the Mulberry street jeweler, received a large safe this morning from the Barnes company, of Pittsburg. It will be remembered that burglars entered this establishment some months ago and carried away several hundred dollars worth of valuables. The safe is intended to prevent a repetition of this occurrence.

McCray Disappeared.

It is reported that Charles McCray, a 16-year-old lad, arrested by Officer Todd a few days ago for attempting to steal a ride on a freight train, has disappeared. After his arrest, McCray was taken before the mayor and released on his own recognizance to appear for a hearing. He failed to show up and it is thought that he has left to escape the trial.

The McCloy Funeral.

The body of Mrs. McCloy, who died at Steubenville Wednesday afternoon, was brought to the East End yesterday afternoon and taken to the home of Frank Finney, on St. George street. The funeral will be held at the Salem church, near Black Hawk, Pa., deceased having been reared in that neighborhood.

Appraisement Made.

Walter C. Supplee, Kelsey Bennett and A. L. Lentz made an appraisement of the property of the late Mrs. Sarah Shepherd yesterday. The estate consists of a house and lot in the East End, a farm in Portage county and stock in the Union Pottery company.

Hunting Wild Ducks.

Wild ducks have made their appearance along the Ohio and are said to be plentiful near the mouth of Little Beaver creek. Duck hunting is now occupying the attention of all not otherwise engaged and several parties started out this morning.

Engine Broke Down.

Owing to a break in the engine at the Globe plant, there will be no work until a week from next Monday in the clay department. The broken part of the engine will be replaced by a new one from Chicago.

Clay Department Idle.

The clay department of Laughlin No. 3 plant is idle today and only the jigmen are working at the No. 2 plant. A shortage of boards is the reason assigned.

EAST END AFFAIRS.

George Thompson, living near town, who has been in a serious condition of health, is reported much better.

Charles Kontner, president of No. 52, street car employees, will attend the county convention at Lisbon tomorrow.

John Lake, of Elizabeth avenue, who suffered a stroke of paralysis several months ago, is now in a very serious condition.

What You Need for Constipation.

When troubled with constipation, what you need is a remedy that is sure to produce the desired effect. A remedy that is mild and gentle in its action. A remedy that leaves the bowels in a natural and healthy condition. A remedy that is easy and pleasant to take. Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets meet all of these requirements. Give them a trial and you will never wish to take another dose of pills. Use them as directed and they will cure chronic constipation. Price 25 cents. Every box is warranted for sale by A. H. H. ## SOUTH SIDE

JOHNSTON GETS IT

Ferry Franchise Granted to Operate Between Congo And Wellsville.

In the matter of the application of Watson S. Johnston for a ferry franchise between Congo on this side of the river and Wellsville on the Ohio side, E. W. Hewett and Elson Stewart, members of the court of Hancock county appointed viewers at a former term of the court, reported favorably upon the application Monday and the franchise was granted. The franchise provides that the owner shall keep at the ferry in good order and repair one end-drive ferry boat propelled by steam or gasoline or other power, and at least one skiff or more, sufficient to transport with reasonable dispatch all persons and property, and shall also keep a number of competent employees and hands sufficient at all times to man and operate in good and proper manner the craft of the ferry.

The hours for operating the ferry shall be from sunrise to sunset. The usual prices for ferriage are also fixed by the franchise. Mr. Johnston accepted the franchise as granted and record was duly made on the minutes.

The application has been before the court of Hancock county many times during the past few months, and the action taken this week disposes of a question of more than passing interest to Chester people.

Delays in Oil Tests.

The Home Oil and Gas company had made all preparations for an early start upon the development of extensive oil territory in the vicinity of Chester this spring, but has been delayed in making a start on account of the failure of certain machinery to arrive. The engine and other equipment was arranged for weeks ago and the firm at Marietta claims to have shipped the consignment on time. The failure of the machinery to arrive has been costly to the company. Several hundred acres of supposedly good paying territory is under lease, and unless operations can be commenced soon it is feared the land can not be fully tested before the leases run out.

New County Bridge.

In the court of Hancock county this week an application to have a bridge constructed over Tomlinson run, near Chester, was refused. The bridge was washed away by the recent floods and a number of the residents of the section affected by the washout were before the court to urge that the bridge be rebuilt at once. One party proposed to rebuild the abutments at a price named, but the court thought that inasmuch as the cost at his figure would aggregate about $1,000 for the stone work alone, the price was too high and it was decided the court view the bridge and take the matter up at its next meeting.

Sunken Scrapper Resurrected.

The youngsters in the vicinity of Cunningham's bridge south of Chester, on Halloween took possession of a road scrapper belonging to two road districts in that section. The machine was run over the bank and fell into the creek bottom. The floods since that time have embedded the vehicle so deeply that it was extracted with great difficulty yesterday. The road supervisors out there had decided to proceed with the improvement of the roads in that locality, and the scrapper was taken out of the creek yesterday.

CHESTER NOTES.

John Gill has gone to Lisbon.

TEMPERANCE WINS AGAIN

Brannock Local Option Bill Is Referred to the Judiciary Committee.

Columbus, March 25.—The Brannock local option bill was read the second time in the senate yesterday afternoon. Senator Austin, of Toledo, moved to refer the bill to the committee on city affairs. This was lost by a vote of 15 to 17. Senator Godfrey, of Putnam, moved reference to the judiciary committee, which carried by a vote of 15 to 17.

The temperance people regard this as another victory. As Senator Chamberlain, of Lorain, said its reference to the committee on city affairs would be considered by the people of the state an act hostile to temperance legislation.

CONGREGATION TO MEET

Members of Second Presbyterian Congregation Will Elect Officers Next Wednesday Night.

Announcement is made that the annual congregational meeting of the Second Presbyterian church will be held next Wednesday evening. Every member of the congregation is being urged to attend as matters of importance are to come up for consideration. During the past year the church has prospered materially and the reports of the officers will be full of interest. Owing to the increase in membership and the full attendance at the church services the present edifice will soon be found too small and either it will be enlarged or a new one erected.

At the meeting Wednesday night, trustees, a secretary and treasurer and other officials will be chosen.

Pastry Sale Tomorrow.

The Ladies' Aid society of the Erie street Methodist church have arranged for a pie, cake and bread sale to be held tomorrow afternoon in the building occupied by Green's restaurant at the corner of Mulberry street and Pennsylvania avenue. The ladies have donated a large amount of fine pastries which will be offered for sale. The sale will commence in the afternoon.

Has New Safe.

J. M. Buckle, the Mulberry street jeweler, received a large safe this morning from the Barnes company, of Pittsburg. It will be remembered that burglars entered this establishment some months ago and carried away several hundred dollars worth of valuables. The safe is intended to prevent a repetition of this occurrence.

McCray Disappeared.

It is reported that Charles McCray, a 16-year-old lad, arrested by Officer Todd a few days ago for attempting to steal a ride on a freight train, has disappeared. After his arrest, McCray was taken before the mayor and released on his own recognizance to appear for a hearing. He failed to show up and it is thought that he has left to escape the trial.

The McCloy Funeral.

The body of Mrs. McCloy, who died at Steubenville Wednesday afternoon, was brought to the East End yesterday afternoon and taken to the home of Frank Finney, on St. George street. The funeral will be held at the Salem church, near Black Hawk, Pa., deceased having been reared in that neighborhood.

Appraisement Made.

Walter C. Supplee, Kelsey Bennett and A. L. Lentz made an appraisement of the property of the late Mrs. Sarah Shepherd yesterday. The estate consists of a house and lot in the East End, a farm in Portage county and stock in the Union Pottery company.

Hunting Wild Ducks.

Wild ducks have made their appearance along the Ohio and are said to be plentiful near the mouth of Little Beaver creek. Duck hunting is now occupying the attention of all not otherwise engaged and several parties started out this morning.

Engine Broke Down.

Owing to a break in the engine at the Globe plant, there will be no work until a week from next Monday in the clay department. The broken part of the engine will be replaced by a new one from Chicago.

Clay Department Idle.

The clay department of Laughlin No. 3 plant is idle today and only the jigmen are working at the No. 2 plant. A shortage of boards is the reason assigned.

EAST END AFFAIRS.

George Thompson, living near town, who has been in a serious condition of health, is reported much better.

Charles Kontner, president of No. 52, street car employees, will attend the county convention at Lisbon tomorrow.

John Luke, of Elizabeth avenue, who suffered a stroke of paralysis several months ago, is now in a very serious condition.

What You Need for Constipation.

JOHNSTON GETS IT

Ferry Franchise Granted to Operate Between Congo And Wellsville.

In the matter of the application of Watson S. Johnston for a ferry franchise between Congo on this side of the river and Wellsville on the Ohio side, E. W. Hewett and Elson Stewart, members of the court of Hancock county appointed viewers at a former term of the court, reported favorably upon the application Monday and the franchise was granted. The franchise provides that the owner shall keep at the ferry in good order and repair one end-drive ferry boat propelled by steam or gasoline or other power, and at least one skiff or more, sufficient to transport with reasonable dispatch all persons and property, and shall also keep a number of competent employees and hands sufficient at all times to man and operate in good and proper manner the craft of the ferry.

The hours for operating the ferry shall be from sunrise to sunset. The usual prices for ferriage are also fixed by the franchise. Mr. Johnston accepted the franchise as granted and record was duly made on the minutes.

The application has been before the court of Hancock county many times during the past few months, and the action taken this week disposes of a question of more than passing interest to Chester people.

Delays in Oil Tests.

The Home Oil and Gas company had made all preparations for an early start upon the development of extensive oil territory in the vicinity of Chester this spring, but has been delayed in making a start on account of the failure of certain machinery to arrive. The engine and other equipment was arranged for weeks ago and the firm at Marietta claims to have shipped the consignment on time. The failure of the machinery to arrive has been costly to the company. Several hundred acres of supposedly good paying territory is under lease, and unless operations can be commenced soon it is feared the land can not be fully tested before the leases run out.

New County Bridge.

In the court of Hancock county this week an application to have a bridge constructed over Tomlinson run, near Chester, was refused. The bridge was washed away by the recent floods and a number of the residents of the section affected by the washout were before the court to urge that the bridge be rebuilt at once. One party proposed to rebuild the abutments at a price named, but the court thought that inasmuch as the cost at his figure would aggregate about $1,000 for the stone work alone, the price was too high and it was decided the court view the bridge and take the matter up at its next meeting.

Sunken Scraper Resurrected.

The youngsters in the vicinity of Cunningham's bridge south of Chester, on Halloween took possession of a road scraper belonging to two road districts in that section. The machine was run over the bank and fell into the creek bottom. The floods since that time have embedded the vehicle so deeply that it was extracted with great difficulty yesterday. The road supervisors out there had decided to proceed with the improvement of the roads in that locality, and the scraper was taken out of the creek yesterday.

EFFORTS TO SAVE NATURAL GAS

West Virginians Hold It Should Be Reserved For Their Own Use.

A CONVENTION IS HELD

At Clarksburg And Various Suggestions Made And a Few Adopted. Bill Drafted Calculated to Prevent the Enormous Waste Now General.

Clarksburg, W. Va., March 25.—"West Virginia's natural gas for West Virginia" was the rallying cry of a convention of upward of 100 of the leading business men and lawyers of the natural gas belt of the mountain state at a special convention held at the New Waldo hotel here yesterday. A general policy of gas preservation was under consideration, but underneath this, as the prime object of the meeting, was a plan to end forever pipe line transportation of the best of fuels beyond the bounds of the state.

Various plans were suggested, but only one survived. It provides for the elimination of pumping stations and to the state limiting, under its police power and in the guise of a factor of safety, the pressure of gas in pipes to 300 pounds. This pressure is thought low enough to render useless all the present equipment of pipes and pumping stations which outside capital has bought into the state. The two leading provisions of the bill were prepared in advance, by a lawyer who was active in the preparation of Indiana laws of the same effect, which have been found constitutional in that state. Fines of from $1,000 to $10,000 are fixed for the violation of the law.

It is believed that in this way the freedom of interstate commerce is not overcome. The bearing of this movement upon the natural gas supply of Pittsburgh is of the utmost importance, the Philadelphia company, the Manufacturers Light & Heat company, the Peoples Natural Gas company and the Union Natural Gas corporation all having pipe lines into the great gas fields of West Virginia, particularly Wetzel county, and carrying hundreds of millions of cubic feet of the fuel out of the state yearly.

The convention opened in the morning. T. G. Brady, of Clarksburg, was temporary chairman and nominated for permanent chairman George C. Sturgis, the well known lawyer of Morgantown, who presided at both the morning and afternoon sessions; J. R. Trotter, Buckhannon, was the secretary. An early arrival was Governor A. B. White, who took an active part in the convention, although his main efforts were directed toward the passage of a law that would prevent the great waste.

The name "Standard Oil" was used time and again in the convention as a title of reproach. When the meeting opened one member asked for the appointment of a committee on credentials for the purpose of finding whether the Standard Oil dominated this meeting also. The motion was finally withdrawn as unnecessary, practically all present being certified by boards of trade or town councils as authorized representatives of the towns or counties from which they came.

In addition to the prohibition of the transporting of gas outside of the state, the convention considered the general question of preventing the enormous waste which is at present evident throughout this section.

Dr. R. L. White, head of the state geological survey, said that $200,000,000 would not replace the loss of oil and gas that has occurred in West Virginia through abuse. In response to questions from Governor White he stated that about 46 per cent of the state production of natural gas is used in West Virginia. The waste each year is equal to 700,000 acres of the best Pittsburgh coal, Dr. White stated.

The law modeled after the Indiana legislation, which was adopted as a part of the report of the committee on resolutions and legislation, forbids under heavy penalties the use of gas for flambeau lights and for jumbo burners of more than 50 candle power. It penalizes the burning of gas escaping from mines or other gas equipment. requires fair meters where gas is sold on that basis and creates the office of natural gas supervisor, the new officer to see that the law is enforced.

Chairman George C. Sturgis announced that he would name the permanent committee of five on legislation today. The purpose of the convention is to create sentiment on the subject and to prepare for the introduction of this legislation at the promised extra session of the state legislature.

Governor White stated that he came to learn what the business men wished and further that he is heartily in favor of the reduction of gas waste, the raising of revenue from the gas and oil companies and if constitutionally possible, the restriction of the consumption of the state's natural gas to West Virginia alone. All present were aware that in this matter they are handling a delicate question, and there were frequent references to the shockingly interesting session of the legislature the bill would cause.

EFFORTS TO SAVE NATURAL GAS

West Virginians Hold It Should Be Reserved For Their Own Use.

A CONVENTION IS HELD

At Clarksburg And Various Suggestions Made And a Few Adopted. Bill Drafted Calculated to Prevent the Enormous Waste Now General.

Clarksburg, W. Va., March 25.—"West Virginia's natural gas for West Virginia" was the rallying cry of a convention of upward of 100 of the leading business men and lawyers of the natural gas belt of the mountain state at a special convention held at the New Waldo hotel here yesterday. A general policy of gas preservation was under consideration, but underneath this, as the prime object of the meeting, was a plan to end forever pipe line transportation of the best of fuels beyond the bounds of the state.

Various plans were suggested, but only one survived. It provides for the elimination of pumping stations and to the state limiting, under its police power and in the guise of a factor of safety, the pressure of gas in pipes to 300 pounds. This pressure is thought low enough to render useless all the present equipment of pipes and pumping stations which outside capital has bought into the state. The two leading provisions of the bill were prepared in advance, by a lawyer who was active in the preparation of Indiana laws of the same effect, which have been found constitutional in that state. Fines of from $1,000 to $10,000 are fixed for the violation of the law.

It is believed that in this way the freedom of interstate commerce is neatly overcome. The bearing of this movement upon the natural gas supply of Pittsburgh is of the utmost importance, the Philadelphia company, the Manufacturers Light & Heat company, the Peoples Natural Gas company and the Union Natural Gas corporation all having pipe lines into the great gas fields of West Virginia, particularly Wetzel county, and carrying hundreds of millions of cubic feet of the fuel out of the state yearly.

The convention opened in the morning. T. G. Brady, of Clarksburg, was temporary chairman and nominated for permanent chairman George C. Sturgiss, the well known lawyer of Morgantown, who presided at both the morning and afternoon sessions; J. R. Trotter, Buckhannon, was the secretary. An early arrival was Governor A. B. White, who took an active part in the convention, although his main efforts were directed toward the passage of a law that would prevent the great waste.

The name "Standard Oil" was used time and again in the convention as a title of reproach. When the meeting opened one member asked for the appointment of a committee on credentials for the purpose of finding whether the Standard Oil dominated this meeting also. The motion was finally withdrawn as unnecessary, practically all present being certified by boards of trade or town councils as authorized representatives of the towns or counties from which they came.

In addition to the prohibition of the transporting of gas outside of the state, the convention considered the general question of preventing the enormous waste which is at present evident throughout this section.

Dr. R. I. White, head of the state geological survey, said that $200,000,000 would not replace the loss of oil and gas that has occurred in West Virginia through abuse. In response to questions from Governor White he stated that about 46 per cent of the state production of natural gas is used in West Virginia. The waste each year is equal to 700,000 acres of the best Pittsburgh coal, Dr. White stated.

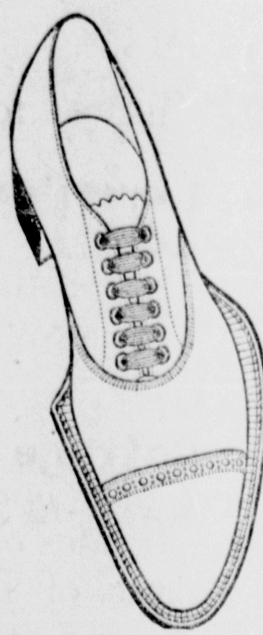

The law modeled after the Indiana legislation, which was adopted as a part of the report of the committee on resolutions and legislation, forbids under heavy penalties the use of gas for flammable lights and for jumbo burners of more than 50 candle power. It penalizes the burning of gas escaping from mines or other gas equipment, requires fair meters where gas is sold on that basis and creates the office of natural gas supervisor, the new officer to see that the law is enforced.

Chairman George C. Sturgiss announced that he would name the permanent committee of five on legislation today. The purpose of the convention is to create sentiment on the

WELLSVILLE AND VICINITY

WATER IS WASTED IN BIG QUANTITIES

STARTLING DISCLOSURES MADE
 REGARDING THE WATER.

Water Works Department Informed
 That Many Have Tapped the Mains
 And Paid Nothing.

Disclosures of a startling nature have been made by officials of the Wellsville water department, which prove that within the past three years the department has suffered the loss of possibly thousands of dollars.
 These facts have just been made known by Supt. Charles E. Ewing, of the water works.

Supt. Ewing has been making an investigation of the new houses erected within the city during the last few years, and has found that in some instances the owners of these houses have been obtaining their water supply without cost. Just how many similar cases exist, no one knows, and until the probing is completed no report of the matter will be made to the trustees.

It is said by the officials of the water

department that when some plumbers have tapped the water mains, no return of the matter has been made to Clerk Sinclair. It is also said that the rules of the department requires a permit for all such work to be taken out before any of the mains are tapped.
 These rules have not been lived up to
 and this fact has caused the department to make an investigation of affairs. It has been found that there are any number of houses in Wells-ville where bath rooms and lavatories have been installed, and no permit was obtained for this, or no report made to the department after the plumbers have completed the work. This is where the department has come out a big loser. To put a stop to all such work is the cause of the present probling.

An instance was shown today when the water department said that three years ago a Wellsville man built a new seven-room house, including bath and street sprinkler attachment. No return of the completion of this house or the plumbing work therein was made to the water department, and the owner paid no water rent during these years. When the fact was disclosed by Supt. Ewing he caused the owner of the house to put up $43 for back water taxes, under threat of shutting off the supply to the house.

It is claimed by the department that many connections have been made for bath rooms in the last year or two, for which no permit was issued. As soon as such cases are located the department will immediately enter a charge against the plumber for not making a return of the work and will compel the owner of the house to pay back water taxes, or else shut off the supply to that residence.

All the money that has been lost to the department in this manner will be collected as soon as sufficient evidence can be obtained to work on. For the past three years it is said by the department such work has been progressing, and the loss thereby to the department is no small item. If the department can increase its revenue
 the city will receive the benefit, as the scope of territory of the department can be increased.

The department is now operating within the limit of the receipts, and if these can be increased, and it is claimed they can be, then extensions to the mains will be made and the service to the general public will be greater.

FOUNDRY MAY STILL STAY IN WELLSVILLE

Stevenson Company Plan to Build New Siding to Factory, And if Agreeable Plant May Remain.

Although much has been said about the Stevenson Foundry company contemplating removing from Wellsville
 it is evident the company would rather remain in Wellsville than move elsewhere.

The company is now planning the construction of a new siding to its factory, and if amicable arrangements can be made for this it is reasonable to believe that the foundry will remain in Wellsville.

They also contemplate raising their present buildings far above the present
 grade, in order to be out of the high water line. Much loss has been suffered by the company on account of this, and to prevent such occurrences in the future the company plans to raise its buildings.

Several new buildings are also planned by the company when it is definitely decided to remain in Wellsville, which will cost several thousands of dollars. That the plant may not be removed from the city will be welcome
 news to those who have the interests of the city at heart.

FOUR ARE SEEKING THE VACANT PULPIT

Congregation of Second Presbyterian Church Will Vote to Call Pastor
 Next Wednesday Evening.

Four applications have been received by the congregation of the Second resignation of Rev. C. L. V. McKee.

 These are Rev. Price, of Creston, O.;
 Rev. Laird, Bethlehem, Pa.; Rev. Williams, Two Ridges, Jefferson county,
 O., and Rev. Donahue, of Pittsburg.
 Rev. Price will be the last of the four applicants to be heard, and he say that the congregation so far as they know have any favorite so far,

 and that as the matter now stands, all
 the applicants have an equal chance of receiving the call. The congregational meeting will be held at the close of the prayer meeting service next Wednesday evening.

TIME WILL BE GIVEN TO FINISH IMPROVEMENT

Postmaster Advised That the Office
 Will Not Be Moved if Work
 Is Pushed Rapidly.

Postmaster T. R. Snowden has received a letter from the department at Washington concerning the action of the Wellsville council at its meeting Monday evening last. The letter follows:

Washington, D. C., March 24, 1904.
 Postmaster, Wellsville, O.

Sir:—Your letter of the 22d inst., advising that the city council has decided to complete the improvements to the postoffice quarters has been received, also your enclosures to Assistant Superintendent Norris, of the same date. In view of the decision of the city authorities to take prompt action in the matter, it has been decided to withhold the acceptance of the proposal of Mr. Whitacre to lease quarters for the office a reasonable time, and Assistant Superintendent Norris has been requested to notify the proper parties exactly what is needed to complete the equipment and changes to the fixtures, etc.

It is expected, however, no further delay will occur, and that all improvements will be finished at once.

Keep the department advised of the progress of the work, and as soon as several sources just as soon as it is

WELLSVILLE AND VICINITY

WATER IS WASTED IN BIG QUANTITIES

 REGARDING THE WATER.

Water Works Department Informed
 That Many Have Tapped the Mains
 And Paid Nothing.

Disclosures of a startling nature
 have been made by officials of the Wellsville water department, which prove that within the past three years the department has suffered the loss of possibly thousands of dollars.
 These facts have just been made known by Supt. Charles E. Ewing, of
 the water works.

Supt. Ewing has been making an investigation of the new houses erected
 within the city during the last few years, and has found that in some instances the owners of these houses
 have been obtaining their water supply without cost. Just how many similar cases exist, no one knows, and until the probing is completed no report of the matter will be made to the trustees.

It is said by the officials of the water

department that when some plumbers
 have tapped the water mains, no return of the matter has been made to Clerk Sinclair. It is also said that the rules of the department requires a permit for all such work to be taken out
 before any of the mains are tapped.
 These rules have not been lived up to
 and this fact has caused the department to make an investigation of affairs. It has been found that there are many number of houses in Wells-ville where bath rooms and lavatories
 have been installed, and no permit was obtained for this, or no report made
 to the department after the plumbers have completed the work. This is where the department has come out
 a big loser. To put a stop to all such work is the cause of the present probing.

An instance was shown today when the water department said that three years ago a Wellsville man built a new seven-room house, including bath
 and street sprinkler attachment. No
 return of the completion of this house
 or the plumbing work therein was made to the water department, and the owner paid no water rent during these years. When the fact was disclosed by Supt. Ewing he caused the owner of the house to put up $43 for back water taxes, under threat of shutting off the supply to the house.

It is claimed by the department that many connections have been made for bath rooms in the last year or two, for which no permit was issued. As soon as such cases are located the department will immediately enter a charge against the plumber for not making
 a return of the work and will compel
 the owner of the house to pay back
 water taxes, or else shut off the supply to that residence.

All the money that has been lost to the department in this manner will
 be collected as soon as sufficient evidence can be obtained to work on. For the past three years it is said by the department such work has been progressing, and the loss thereby to the department is no small item. If the department can increase its revenue
 the city will receive the benefit, as
 the scope of territory of the department can be increased.

The department is now operating within the limit of the receipts, and if these can be increased, and it is claimed they can be, then extensions to the

mains will be made and the service to the general public will be greater.

FOUNDRY MAY STILL STAY IN WELLSVILLE

Stevenson Company Plan to Build New Siding to Factory, And if Agreeable Plant May Remain.

Although much has been said about
 the Stevenson Foundry company contemplating removing from Wellsville
 it is evident the company would rather remain in Wellsville than move
 elsewhere.

The company is now planning the construction of a new siding to its factory, and if amicable arrangements
 can be made for this it is reasonable to believe that the foundry will remain in Wellsville.

They also contemplate raising their present buildings far above the present
 grade, in order to be out of the high water line. Much loss has been suffered by the company on account of this, and to prevent such occurrences
 in the future the company plans to raise its buildings.

Several new buildings are also planned by the company when it is definitely decided to remain in Wellsville,
 which will cost several thousands of dollars. That the plant may not be removed from the city will be welcome
 news to those who have the interests
 of the city at heart.

FOUR ARE SEEKING THE VACANT PULPIT

Congregation of Second Presbyterian
 Church Will Vote to Call Pastor
 Next Wednesday Evening.

Four applications have been received by the congregation of the Second Presbyterian church, Eighteenth

 resignation of Rev. C. L. V. McKee.
 These are Rev. Price, of Creston, O.;
 Rev. Laird, Bethlehem, Pa.; Rev. Williams, Two Ridges, Jefferson county,
 O., and Rev. Donahue, of Pittsburg.
 Rev. Price will be the last of the four applicants to be heard, and he

 say that the congregation so far as they know have any favorite so far,
 and that as the matter now stands, all
 the applicants have an equal chance
 of receiving the call. The congregational meeting will be held at the close of the prayer meeting service next Wednesday evening.

TIME WILL BE GIVEN TO FINISH IMPROVEMENT

Postmaster Advised That the Office
 Will Not Be Moved If Work
 Is Pushed Rapidly.

Postmaster T. R. Snowden has received a letter from the department at Washington concerning the action of the Wellsville council at its meeting Monday evening last. The letter follows:

Washington, D. C., March 24, 1904.
 Postmaster, Wellsville, O.

Sir:—Your letter of the 22d inst., advising that the city council has decided to complete the improvements to the postoffice quarters has been received, also your enclosures to Assistant Superintendent Norris, of the same date. In view of the decision of the city authorities to take prompt action
 in the matter, it has been decided to withhold the acceptance of the proposal of Mr. Whitacre to lease quarters for the office a reasonable time, and Assistant Superintendent Norris has been requested to notify the proper parties exactly what is needed to complete the equipment and changes to the fixtures, etc.

It is expected, however, no further delay will occur, and that all improvements will be finished at once.

Keep the department advised of the progress of the work, and as soon as the changes and additions are completed, notify Assistant Superintendent Norris, in order that he may inspect the premises and make arrangements for the execution of the lease.

REALM OF SPORTS

CHICKENS ESCAPED

AFFORDING FUN

They Were Chased By Angry Mob on Sixth Street And Finally Captured.

Great sport was afforded a large number of people in the vicinity of Plankinton's meat shop, Sixth street, yesterday afternoon when a dozen or more chickens escaped from a coop, which Mr. Plankinton failed to close securely. Immediately upon escaping from their prison-like apartment the chickens, born in the country, naturally frightened by the uncommon sights and noises of a busy city, flapped their wings and started on a stampede in most every direction.

The clerks in the meat shop rushed out and summoning the aid of a raft of kids got after the fleeing fowls. Like a regiment of Russians closely pursued by the Japs the chickens gave their enemies a smart pace and the fun of the crowd was the witnessing of the valiant attempts to escape recapture. After running for short distances the fowls took to their wings and in a few moments every one of them was perched on an awning, window sill or other elevated roosts. Among the flock was a rooster and after gazing around and seeing that his underlings were far from the reach of their would-be captors, he crowed in a manner so exultant that all in hearing laughed aloud in genuine glee. The rooster, right from Shamrock, felt just as safe and free from the human hand of warriors as if he and the hens were resting on the isle of fane.

For fully 30 minutes the men were suffered to chase the chickens and when they did succeed in cooping them at least four of the number were so exhausted that they keeled over and died, much to the sorrow of Mr. Plankinton, who had been treasuring the thought of their "dropping" in another way when eggs are 60 cents per dozen.

Juniors and Nationals Will Furnish the Sport in the Preliminary Game.

College teams seem to be in great favor with the fans and Marietta will no doubt draw a large crowd. While this five is very fast, the statement made in a morning paper that it is the champion of the state is erroneous. The East Liverpool five has earned that title and is prepared to defend it against all comers. The statement that Marietta won from O. S. U. is also erroneous as the latter team triumphed overwhelmingly in the games played this year.

There will be a preliminary game

SSS FOR THE BLOOD

The best known and most popular blood purifier and tonic on the market to-day is S. S. S. There is hardly a man, woman or child in America who has not heard of "S. S. S. for the blood." It is a standard remedy, a specific for all blood troubles and unequalled as a general tonic and appetizer. S. S. S. is guaranteed purely vegetable, the herbs and roots of which it is composed are selected for their alterative and tonic properties, making it the ideal remedy for all blood and skin diseases, as it not only purifies, enriches and invigorates the blood, but at the same time tones up the tired nerves and gives strength and vigor to the entire system.

For Chronic Sores and Ulcers, Catarrh, Rheumatism, Blood Poison, Malaria, Anemia, Scrofula, Eczema, Psoriasis, Salt Rheum, Tetters, Acne and such other diseases as are due to a polluted or impoverished condition of the blood, nothing acts so promptly and effectually as S. S. S. It counteracts and eradicates the germs and poisons; cleanses the system of all unhealthy accumulations and soon restores the patient to health. tonight between the East Liverpool Juniors and the Nationals and an exciting contest is expected. These preliminary games are popular with the fans. The lineups of the big teams will be as follows:

East Liverpool—Allison and Bloor, forwards; Rigby and Powell, center; Watkin and Chadwick, guards.
Marietta—Williams and Neal, forwards; Gorrell, center; Scott and Chadwick, guards.

A RANK INJUSTICE

Members of Columbian Gun Club Invite Thorough Investigation.

It is understood that the members of the Columbian Gun club do not intend to protest against being subjected to move their shooting ground from the East End, if ordered to do so by the authorities. They do, however, feel that they are the victims of a conspiracy on the part of a selfish few, who for no good purpose whatever are seeking to cause them the trouble of finding another location.

It is argued that no one could possibly be disturbed by the practice and that it would be an injustice notwithstanding that it would be carrying out the provisions of the law to the letter to make them go. It will cost no small amount to move and before any action is taken the situation should be well investigated, is another phase of the argument.

POWELL'S TEAM BEATEN

Rigby's Men Took Two Games Out of Three in the Bowling Contest.

Powell's team met defeat at the hands of the Rigbys on the Imperial alley last night, the Rigbys winning two out of three. The married men play the single team tonight and there will be big interest in the contest. Score last night:

Powell's Team—Powell, 132, 175, 182; Logan, 168, 128, 161; Litten, 156, 166, 146; Brunt, 148, 138, 158; Rose, 158, 126, 191; totals, 762, 733, 838.
Rigby's Team—J. W. Williams, 225, 155, 170; Kelly, 157, 135, 136; Lewellen, 166, 156, 176; Evanitka, 153, 153, 133; Cope, 140, 143, 140; totals, 831, 742, 755.

High School Field Day.

A county field day and athletic meet, to be attended and participated in by track teams representing the six or seven high schools in Columbiana, will probably be held at Lisbon on some date in the latter part of May. The Salem High School Athletic association, organized last October, has taken the lead in this project, and matters have now so far progressed that they are beginning to assume definite shape. Correspondence with the representatives of the high schools at East Liverpool, Lisbon, Wellsville, Leetonia, Columbiana, East Palestine and Salineville has met with encouragement and endorsement.

No Base Ball in Cumberland.

The management of the New Cumberland base ball team states that there will be no base ball team at New Cumberland this season on account of the Chelsea pottery burning to the ground. Nearly all the players of the base ball team were employed there and the destruction of the pottery caused the boys to seek work elsewhere, which leaves the town without a ball team this summer.

Gun Shoot Yesterday.

The Columbian Gun club held another shoot on the East End grounds yesterday afternoon. The members had a royal good time and have got their eyes now trained so they are willing to buck any team in this section of the country. The club is composed of the best material in the city and have a promising outlook. They are highly respected citizens and fine marksmen.

Young Corbett has been matched to meet Charley Neary, a Milwaukee undefeated.

The odds on Young Corbett are now 10 to 8 for his fight with Jimmy Britt. There is very little betting.

Milligan, a recruit of McGraw's, is touted by Sam Crane as a ringer for Jessa Tannehill in his prime.

Ban Johnson, president of the American base ball league, has sold the Washington base ball club to Messrs. Thomas C. Noyes and William J. Dwyer, both of Washington.

COUNTY AND NEIGHBORHOOD

John Hoyle, aged 89, a native of England, is dead at his home at Wagona.

An Italian stabbed another Italian, perhaps fatally, in a Wabash railroad camp near New Alexandria.

Adam Bower, a well known farmer residing near Salem, is losing his eyesight owing to heart trouble.

The annual Tri-County Teachers' convention will be held on March 25 and 26 in the opera house in Niles.

Mrs. Alice Saunders, of Youngstown, who attempted suicide by pouring kerosene on her bed and lighting it after she got in bed, is dead. She suffered the greatest agony for four days.

Jesse R. Maple, the oldest citizen of Salineville township, Jefferson county, says he has known Yellow Creek and Brush Creek since 1899, but never knew them to be near so high as they were on March 4.

At a meeting of the Tuscarawas county bar, Hon. Walter G. Shotwell, of Cadiz, Republican candidate for supreme judge, was unanimously endorsed. Similar action was taken by the Harrison county bar.

REALM OF SPORTS

AFFORDING FUN

They Were Chased By Angry Mob on Sixth Street And Finally Captured.

Great sport was afforded a large number of people in the vicinity of Plankinton's meat shop, Sixth street, yesterday afternoon when a dozen or more chickens escaped from a coop, which Mr. Plankinton failed to close securely. Immediately upon escaping from their prison-like apartment, the chickens, born in the country, naturally frightened by the uncommon sights and noises of a busy city, flapped their wings and started on a stampede in most every direction.

The clerks in the meat shop rushed out and summoning the aid of a raft of kids got after the fleeing fowls. Like a regiment of Russians closely pursued by the Japs the chickens gave their enemies a smart pace and the fun of the crowd was the witnessing of the valiant attempts to escape recapture. After running for short distances the fowls took to their wings and in a few moments every one of them was perched on an awning, window sill or other elevated roosts. Among the flock was a rooster and after gazing around and seeing that his underlings were far from the reach of their would-be captors, he crowed in a manner so exultant that all in hearing laughed aloud in genuine glee. The rooster, right from Shamrock, felt just as safe and free from the human band of warriors as if he and the hens were resting on the isle of fame.

For fully 30 minutes the men were suffered to chase the chickens and when they did succeed in cooping them at least four of the number were so exhausted that they keeled over and died, much to the sorrow of Mr. Plankinton, who had been treasuring the thought of their "dropping" in another way when eggs are 60 cents per dozen.

MARIETTA COLLECIANS AT PAVILION TONIGHT

Juniors and Nationals Will Furnish the Sport in the Preliminary Game.

College teams seem to be in great favor with the fans and Marietta will no doubt draw a large crowd. While this five is very fast, the statement made in a morning paper that it is the champion of the state is erroneous. The East Liverpool five has earned that title and is prepared to defend it against all comers. The statement that Marietta won from O. S. U. is also erroneous as the latter team triumphed overwhelmingly in the games played this year.

There will be a preliminary game

SSS FOR THE BLOOD

The best known and most popular blood purifier and tonic on the market to-day is S. S. S. There is hardly a man, woman or child in America who has not heard of "S. S. S. for the blood." It is a standard remedy, a specific for all blood troubles and unequalled as a general tonic and appetizer. S. S. S. is guaranteed purely vegetable, the herbs and roots of which it is composed are selected for their alterative and tonic properties, making it the ideal remedy for all blood and skin diseases, as it not only purifies, enriches and invigorates the blood, but at the same time tones up the tired nerves and gives strength and vigor to the entire system.

For Chronic Sores and Ulcers, Catarrh, Rheumatism, Blood Poison, Malaria, Anemia, Scrofula, Eczema, Psoriasis, Salt Rheum, Tetters, Acne and such other diseases as are due to a polluted or impoverished condition of the blood, nothing acts so promptly and effectually as S. S. S. It counteracts and eradicates the germs and poisons; cleanses the system of all unhealthy accumulations and soon restores the patient to health. Write us and our physicians will give your case prompt attention without charge.

THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

tonight between the East Liverpool Juniors and the Nationals and an exciting contest is expected. These preliminary games are popular with the fans. The lineups of the big teams will be as follows:

East Liverpool—Allison and Bloor, forwards; Rigby and Powell, center; Watkin and Chadwick, guards.
Marietta—Williams and Neal, forwards; Gorrell, center; Scott and Chadwick, guards.

A RANK INJUSTICE

Members of Columbian Gun Club Invite Thorough Investigation.

It is understood that the members of the Columbian Gun club do not intend to protest against being subjected to move their shooting ground from the East End, if ordered to do so by the authorities. They do, however, feel that they are the victims of a conspiracy on the part of a selfish few, who for no good purpose whatever are seeking to cause them the trouble of finding another location.

It is argued that no one could possibly be disturbed by the practice and that it would be an injustice notwithstanding that it would be carrying out the provisions of the law to the letter to make them go. It will cost no small amount to move and before any action is taken the situation should be well investigated, is another phase of the argument.

POWELL'S TEAM BEATEN

Rigby's Men Took Two Games Out of Three in the Bowling Contest.

Powell's team met defeat at the hands of the Rigbys on the Imperial alley last night, the Rigbys winning two out of three. The married men play the single team tonight and there will be big interest in the contest. Score last night:

Powell's Team—Powell, 132, 175, 182; Logan, 168, 128, 161; Litten, 156, 166, 146; Brunt, 148, 138, 158; Rose, 158, 126, 191; totals, 762, 733, 838.

Rigby's Team—J. W. Williams, 225, 155, 170; Kelly, 157, 135, 136; Lowellen, 166, 156, 176; Evanitcka, 153, 153, 133; Cope, 140, 143, 140; totals, 831, 742, 755.

High School Field Day.

A county field day and athletic meet, to be attended and participated in by track teams representing the six or seven high schools in Columbiana, will probably be held at Lisbon on some date in the latter part of May. The Salem High School Athletic association, organized last October, has taken the lead in this project, and matters have now so far progressed that they are beginning to assume definite shape. Correspondence with the representatives of the high schools at East Liverpool, Lisbon, Wellsville, Leetonia, Columbiana, East Palestine and Salineville has met with encouragement and endorsement.

No Base Ball in Cumberland.

The management of the New Cumberland base ball team states that there will be no base ball team at New Cumberland this season on account of the Chelsea pottery burning to the ground. Nearly all the players of the base ball team were employed there and the destruction of the pottery caused the boys to seek work elsewhere, which leaves the town without a ball team this summer.

Gun Shoot Yesterday.

The Columbian Gun club held another shoot on the East End grounds yesterday afternoon. The members had a royal good time and have got their eyes now trained so they are willing to buck any team in this section of the country. The club is composed of the best material in the city and have a promising outlook. They are highly respected citizens and fine marksmen.

SPORTING MISCELLANY.

Clarke wants to make it four straight for the pennant and then tackle the champions of the American league just to prove that Boston beat a crippled team last fall.

A stock company is backing Warren's base ball team.

The Pirates are after Pitcher Mike Lynch, of Brown, but he says no.

Young Corbett has been matched to meet Charley Neary, a Milwaukee undefeated.

The odds on Young Corbett are now 10 to 8 for his fight with Jimmy Britt. There is very little betting.

Milligan, a recruit of McGraw's, is touted by Sam Crane as a ringer for Jess Tannehill in his prime.

"NO LONGER FATIGUED—I SLEEP LIKE A CHILD—CAN EAT ANYTHING"—THIS SUCCESSFUL MINNEAPOLIS MAN JOINS THE THOUSANDS WHO ARE PRAISING THE CELEBRATED NERVE VITALIZER AND TONIC.

PAINE'S CELERY COMPOUND

IT KEEPS HIM "ALWAYS AT HIS BEST."

Minneapolis, Feb. 1, 1904.—"If Paine's Celery Compound can do for others what it has done for me, it is certainly the greatest remedy on the market today. I tried dozens of other remedies, but found none that would make me feel like Paine's Celery Compound has made me feel."

"I was troubled with debility, nervousness, insomnia and several other ailments. After taking Paine's Celery Compound I slept like a child; I could eat anything; it relieved me of that tired feeling."

"I feel young again and a little extra exertion no longer fatigues me. In fact, it was just the tonic I needed." Chas. H. Johnson, 621 First Ave. S.

Paine's Celery Compound is best advertised by the men and women it has cured. The fame of this celebrated Nerve Vitalizer and Blood Tonic has been spread to every city, township and farm in the nation—by the word-of-mouth recommendation of grateful patients. Is there one other remedy in the world today that can point to success based on such fame?

SLASHED BY STRANGER

Isaac Woods Has Clothing Cut By Unknown Man, Whom the Police Fail to Locate.

Isaac Woods, a well known mill employe, was assaulted by an unknown man in Jag alley late Wednesday night. Although the police made a strenuous attempt to locate the chap, their work met with failure.

Woods was on his way home. He was stopped by the stranger who said, "I have you now, Ben, so look out." The man then pulled a sharp knife across the breast of Woods, cutting his clothing, but failed to touch the flesh. Seeing his mistake, the stranger ran from Woods and was soon lost in the darkness.

VOTING IN PROGRESS

Prospects Are Good For a Large Vote in Wellsville This Afternoon.

Wellsville, under the delegate system, is entitled to 15 delegates in the county convention tomorrow, divided as follows: First ward, four; Second ward, four; Third ward, four; Fourth ward, three. Everybody was ready at the polls for the voting on time. The polls opened at 11:30 a. m., central standard time. The vote at the start was rather light, but during the afternoon ballots were cast faster than at the city primary election a few weeks ago.

NEED ORGANIZATION

Ministerial Association Has Not Met for Several Weeks—Only Three Members Remain.

Because only three members of their old organization remain in Wellsville, the ministerial association is much disorganized. It is said that some of the Wellsville ministers have failed to take an active part in the affairs of the association, and until new ministers are in charge of the several Presbyterian churches no session is likely to be held soon.

Councilman McDonald Returns.

Councilman McDonald, who has been visiting his son at Piney Fork, O., where he has been for several days, came to city hall immediately upon his return and wanted to know about the postoffice "fight." He claimed to be ready to engage cold storage quarters for those councilmen who opposed the improvements at the postoffice several weeks ago, provided the situation became too warm for them. Councilman McDonald looks with favor upon removing from the city, and may do so within a short time, as was exclusively announced in this paper Monday last.

Friars Are Ready.

The Friars' club will repeat their minstrel show this evening in the Cooper opera house. Practically the seating capacity of the house has been sold, thus insuring the affair success. Rehearsals have been held every night this week, a dress rehearsal being given last night. The members of the club deserve success for they have labored hard to give a better production tonight than was given last month in their club rooms.

Safety Board to Meet.

The board of safety plans to meet at the office of Mayor Fogo next Thursday evening. No session has been held by the board for several weeks, and in the meantime a quantity of new matters have assembled, which will receive attention at the coming meeting. Salaries for the firemen and police will be ordered paid at this meeting, while a number of other bills will receive attention.

FOR PALM SUNDAY AND EASTER SERVICES

Especially Interesting And Impressive Observances at the Lutheran Church.

Extensive preparations are being made by St. John's Evangelical Lutheran church for Palm Sunday and Easter services. In connection with the special services on Palm Sunday morning a public examination of catechumens in the doctrines of Christianity will be held. At the English evening service baptism will be administered. A special feature of the evening will be the beautiful liturgical service, closing with the soul-stirring anthem, "Ride on, Ride on in Majesty."

Holy week will be observed appropriately. On Holy Thursday evening at 8 o'clock there will be Lenten and preparatory services in English, preparatory to communion on Easter Sunday. On Good Friday evening there will be preparatory services in German at the same hour. On Easter Sunday evening a class of adult catechumens will be confirmed. These services in the Lutheran church are always solemnly beautiful and will no doubt attract a large attendance.

The decoration of the church are in the hands of the Luther league, who will spare no efforts to beautify the interior of the edifice. At each of the services Lenten self-denial offerings will be received.

Started for New Mexico.

William T. Martin, who has been so seriously ill of consumption at his home, Sixth street, for nearly a year, left this morning for Las Vegas, N. M., where he hopes to recuperate. He was accompanied by William Humble, who will take care of him en route. Mr. Martin has numerous friends in the city, all of whom are anxious to hear of his early recovery in the western climate.

LONG-DISTANCE FIGHT

With a Woman Causes the Arrest of a Chester Mill Man.

James Mead, a shearsman employed at the Chester tin mill, was arrested this morning by Officer McDermott on a charge of threatening to strike Mrs. Ethel E. Pander. The charge was preferred by Frank Pander, husband of the woman, through his attorney, J. H. Brookes. Officers McDermott and Dawson were busy this afternoon serving subpoenas on witnesses and the case will be disposed of before evening, if possible.

It seems that Mead and Mrs. Pander had an altercation at long distance last evening.

Conkle-Freyermark.

The bride was attended by Miss Ethel Webb and the groom by Mr. Will Poutts. The gown of the bride was a handsome blue silk trimmed with lace. The couple departed on a short wedding trip.

MAKES TWO LANDINGS

Mrs. McKee Hears Through Press That Husband Touched at Gibraltar.

Rev. C. L. V. McKee, who left Wellsville March 6 for Jerusalem, if his ship is making scheduled time, is now at Athens, Greece. The ship was to arrive there at 6 o'clock this morning and the party is to remain there three days, or until Sunday at 3 p. m. Constantinople will be the next stop.

Since he left New York Mrs. McKee has received no letters from Mr. McKee, although not sufficient time has elapsed for a letter to reach Wellsville from Madeira, the first stop made by the ship. The following stop was made at Gibraltar and the next step was at Algiers. From that place the party was to land at Malta, which point was to be left Wednesday at 9 o'clock p. m.

Through the newspapers Mrs. McKee has watched the journey of her husband, and expects to receive a number of letters from him within a fortnight.

PLANT IS TO START

Champion Brick Works Will Resume Operation Thursday of Next Week, Employing Many Men.

Announcement was made last night that the plant of the Champion Brick company, located up Rowe's Run, would resume operations in full on Thursday morning next. When running full a force of 60 men is employed. The company has worked its clay mine all winter, two diggers being employed constantly. An immense stock of raw material is now available. There is very little stock on hand, and it is understood that the orders that the company has already on its books will keep the plant in operation for many months.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of this company was held yesterday afternoon. The financial statement showed the company had a prosperous year, and the outlook for business this year better than ever. Officers will be chosen at a meeting that was to be held this afternoon.

"I tried dozens of other remedies, but found none that would make me feel like Paine's Celery Compound has made me feel."

"I was troubled with debility, nervousness, insomnia and several other ailments. After taking Paine's Celery Compound I slept like a child; I could eat anything. It relieved me of that tired feeling."

Paine's Celery Compound is best advertised by the men and women it has cured. The fame of this celebrated Nerve Vitalizer and Blood Tonic has been spread to every city, township and farm in the nation—by the word-of-mouth recommendation of grateful patients. With these notable people was Colonel Beacom, an attaché of the American legation at London, who is a brother of ex-Councilman Beacom, of Wellsville. ### SLASHED BY STRANGER

Isaac Woods Has Clothing Cut By Unknown Man, Whom the Police Fail to Locate.

Isaac Woods, a well known mill employe, was assaulted by an unknown man in Jag alley late Wednesday night. Although the police made a strenuous attempt to locate the chap, their work met with failure.

Woods was on his way home. He was stopped by the stranger who said, "I have you now, Ben, so look out." The man then pulled a sharp knife across the breast of Woods, cutting his clothing, but failed to touch the flesh. Seeing his mistake, the stranger ran from Woods and was soon lost in the darkness.

VOTING IN PROGRESS

Prospects Are Good For a Large Vote in Wellsville This Afternoon.

Wellsville, under the delegate system, is entitled to 15 delegates in the county convention tomorrow, divided as follows: First ward, four; Second ward, four; Third ward, four; Fourth ward, three. Everybody was ready at the polls for the voting on time. The polls opened at 11:30 a. m., central standard time. The vote at the start was rather light, but during the afternoon ballots were cast faster than at the city primary election a few weeks ago.

NEED ORGANIZATION

Ministerial Association Has Not Met for Several Weeks—Only Three Members Remain.

Because only three members of their old organization remain in Wellsville, the ministerial association is much disorganized. It is said that some of the Wellsville ministers have failed to take an active part in the affairs of the association, and until new ministers are in charge of the several Presbyterian churches no session is likely to be held soon.

Councilman McDonald Returns.

Councilman McDonald, who has been visiting his son at Pincy Fork, O., where he has been for several days, came to city hall immediately upon his return and wanted to know about the postoffice "fight." He claimed to be ready to engage cold storage quarters for those councilmen who opposed the improvements at the postoffice several weeks ago, provided the situation became too warm for them.

Councilman McDonald looks with favor upon removing from the city, and may do so within a short time, as was exclusively announced in this paper Monday last.

Friars Are Ready.

The Friars' club will repeat their minstrel show this evening in the Cooper opera house. Practically the seating capacity of the house has been sold, thus insuring the affair success. Rehearsals have been held every night this week, a dress rehearsal being given last night. The members of the club deserve success for they have labored hard to give a better production tonight than was given last month in their club rooms.

Safety Board to Meet.

The board of safety plans to meet at the office of Mayor Fogo next Thursday evening. No session has been held by the board for several weeks, and in the meantime a quantity of new matters have assembled, which will receive attention at the coming meeting. Salaries for the firemen and police will be ordered paid at this meeting, while a number of other bills will receive attention.

FOR PALM SUNDAY AND EASTER SERVICES

Especially Interesting And Impressive Observances at the Lutheran Church.

Extensive preparations are being made by St. John's Evangelical Lutheran church for Palm Sunday and Easter services. In connection with the special services on Palm Sunday morning a public examination of catechumens in the doctrines of Christianity will be held. At the English evening service baptism will be administered. A special feature of the evening will be the beautiful liturgical service, closing with the soul-stirring anthem, "Hail on, Ride on in Majesty."

Holy week will be observed appropriately. On Holy Thursday evening at 8 o'clock there will be Lenten and preparatory services in English, preparatory to communion on Easter Sunday. On Good Friday evening there will be preparatory services in German at the same hour. On Easter Sunday evening a class of adult catechumens will be confirmed. These services in the Lutheran church are always solemnly beautiful and will no doubt attract a large attendance.

The decoration of the church are in the hands of the Luther league, who will spare no efforts to beautify the interior of the edifice. At each of the services Lenten self-denial offerings will be received.

LONG-DISTANCE FIGHT

With a Woman Causes the Arrest of a Chester Mill Man.

James Mead, a shearsman employed at the Chester tin mill, was arrested this morning by Officer McDermott on a charge of threatening to strike Mrs. Elsie E. Pander. The charge was preferred by Frank Pander, husband of the woman, through his attorney, J. H. Brookes. Officers McDermott and Dawson were busy this afternoon serving subpoenas on witnesses and the case will be disposed of before evening, if possible.

It seems that Mead and Mrs. Pander had an altercation at long distance last evening.

SUCCESS WAS BEYOND EXPECTATION OF ANY

delicate, dainty and pretty. Mrs. E. L. Trimmer and Mrs. Allen Fink have charge of this booth with Mrs. W. T. Tebbutt and Mrs. Walter Hill.

The Cozy Corner, of which Mrs. Will Reed is chairman, is quite artistic in its draperies of oriental tapestry, with deer horns and Indian heads. In this booth are sold all styles and patterns of cushions, some more elaborate than others, but all very pretty.

Miss Mayme Simms has her booth decorated in green and white which shows up in striking contrast the magnificent roses, violets, tulips and lilies which are for sale in this booth.

Mrs. J. C. Thompson's handkerchief booth is neat and artistic, displaying many beautiful handkerchiefs and many varieties of them.

The doll booth has been much admired, too. It is one bower of green pine, set off in places by large bunches of pink and white chrysanthemums. The dolls in this booth are pretty and beyond description. They are of all expressions and appearances. Mrs. Will Swaney and Miss Maude Wallace have this booth.

The jelly and preserves booth is where great lots of the practical housewives throng to get ideas about fancy jellies, how they were made, what they look like, and to purchase of them. Mrs. Jesse Smith has charge of this booth.

Mrs. Frank Crook was busy the whole afternoon and evening serving ice cream in her booth and if it had been a warm August day there would probably not have been more patronage anywhere than in this booth.

The cakes for sale in Miss White's booth are perfect specimens of the culinary art. There are also a great variety of buns, bread and cookies, as well as fancy cakes.

The Mexican and Indian booth is perfect in its imitation of Mexican and Indian life. The decorations are all of Mexican and Indian style, and here are sold the choicest of Indian and Mexican trophies, including bead work, basketry, and drawn work. A special feature of attraction is a young Indian lad, who acts his part admirably and as a wise palmist who fathoms the future and tells of the dark and dreary past, as well as the events of the present. Mrs. George Grosshans has this booth.

The perfume booth is prettily decorated in lavender and displays a large assortment of fine perfumes and soaps. The perfume booth is in charge of Mrs. Homer Taylor.

Miss Martha Porter has a very fine booth, where she sells the most excellent home made candy of all kinds and varieties.

The Japanese booth, of which Mrs. Bendheim and Mrs. William Erlanger, Sr., are in charge, is at once unique and beautiful. Japanese fans, hair pins, lanterns, ware, birds, and everything dainty in the Japanese line is placed on sale. Messrs. Morris Newman and Bert Erlanger helped fit up this booth and the work does them credit.

Mrs. S. J. Cripps is chairman of the domestic booth, which is decorated in red, white and blue, and where articles both useful and necessary are sold. It is one of the most important booths to the practical housewife.

Mrs. J. R. Warner's booth is very artistic in its decoration of red and white, and aprons in large numbers and of all descriptions are for sale.

The art booth, in charge of Mrs. M. J. McGarry, is decorated in a lattice of blue and yellow, which forms the background where the most beautiful things in the art line are shown.

The Rogues' Gallery, in charge of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. McCain and Mrs. P. W. McCurdy is one of the finest and most unique things of the whole bazaar. It is fully described elsewhere.

Although the whole bazaar, including the supper and all, have realized enormous amounts, yet an exact estimate is not made.

The day was brought to a close shortly after 10 o'clock, the opening day being considered a grand and phenomenal success, and it is believed the two remaining days will be equally as finely patronized.

Pauline, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Taylor, of Sixth street, is going to add her mite to the big

WE make quality the first consideration. We buy the best only, and if there were any better make, we would pay the price for it. That it cuts down our profits considerably to compete in prices with the ordinary makes, is easily understood. Yet, after all, it is a pleasure to do business with little complaint. Yet, after all, it is a satisfaction to have permanent following and to increase our constituency yearly.

$16, $18, $20, $22, $25

For strictly high grade clothing which will compare favorably with custom tailor productions at double these prices. Though we believe we have made quite a reputation in this community, we still tell you, that you need not take our word for it—we invite you to compare—we tell you candidly and frankly that you need not buy because you look nor keep because you buy.

Some good buying and liberal selling enables us to make the following extraordinary offerings:

BOYS' WOOLEN KNEE PANTS—With double seats and knees. Not alone worth 75c, but splendid values at 75c—special price 50c

YOUNG MEN'S LONG TROUSERS—Neat designs—they would be cheap at $1.50—special price $1.00

SUCCESS WAS BEYOND EXPECTATION OF ANY

delicate, dainty and pretty. Mrs. E. L. Trimmer and Mrs. Allen Fink have charge of this booth with Mrs. W. T. Tebbutt and Mrs. Walter Hill.

The Cozy Corner, of which Mrs. Will Reed is chairman, is quite artistic in its draperies of oriental tapestry, with deer horns and Indian heads. In this booth are sold all styles and patterns of cushions, some more elaborate than others, but all very pretty.

Miss Mayme Simms has her booth decorated in green and white which shows up in striking contrast the magnificent roses, violets, tulips and lilies which are for sale in this booth.

Mrs. J. C. Thompson's handkerchief booth is neat and artistic, displaying many beautiful handkerchiefs and many varieties of them.

The doll booth has been much admired, too. It is one bower of green pine, set off in places by large bunches of pink and white chrysanthemums. The dolls in this booth are pretty and beyond description. They are of all expressions and appearances. Mrs. Will Swaney and Miss Maude Wallace have this booth.

The jelly and preserves booth is where great lots of the practical housewives throng to get ideas about fancy jellies, how they were made, what they look like, and to purchase of them. Mrs. Jesse Smith has charge of this booth.

Mrs. Frank Crook was busy the whole afternoon and evening serving ice cream in her booth and if it had been a warm August day there would probably not have been more patronage anywhere than in this booth.

The cakes for sale in Miss White's booth are perfect specimens of the culinary art. There are also a great variety of buns, bread and cookies, as well as fancy cakes.

The Mexican and Indian booth is perfect in its imitation of Mexican and Indian life. The decorations are all of Mexican and Indian style, and here are sold the choicest of Indian and Mexican trophies, including bead work, basketry, and drawn work. A special feature of attraction is a young Indian lad, who acts his part admirably and as a wise palmist who fathoms the future and tells of the dark and dreary past, as well as the events of the present. Mrs. George Grosshans has this booth.

The perfume booth is prettily decorated in lavender and displays a large assortment of fine perfumes and soaps. The perfume booth is in charge of Mrs. Homer Taylor.

Miss Martha Porter has a very fine booth, where she sells the most excellent home made candy of all kinds and varieties.

The Japanese booth, of which Mrs. Bendheim and Mrs. William Erlanger, Sr., are in charge, is at once unique and beautiful. Japanese fans, hair pins, lanterns, ware, birds, and everything dainty in the Japanese line is placed on sale. Messrs. Morris Newman and Bert Erlanger helped fit up this booth and the work does them credit.

Mrs. S. J. Cripps is chairman of the domestic booth, which is decorated in red, white and blue, and where articles both useful and necessary are sold. It is one of the most important booths to the practical housewife.

Mrs. J. R. Warner's booth is very artistic in its decoration of red and white, and aprons in large numbers and of all descriptions are for sale.

The art booth, in charge of Mrs. M. J. McGarry, is decorated in a lattice of blue and yellow, which forms the background where the most beautiful things in the art line are shown.

The Rogues' Gallery, in charge of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. McCain and Mrs. F. W. McCurdy is one of the finest and most unique things of the whole bazaar. It is fully described elsewhere.

Although the whole bazaar, including the supper and all, have realized enormous amounts, yet an exact estimate is not made.

The day was brought to a close shortly after 10 o'clock, the opening day being considered a grand and phenomenal success, and it is believed the two remaining days will be equalled as finely patronized.

Pauline, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Taylor, of Sixth street, is going to add her mite to the big

WE make quality the first consideration. We buy the best only, and if there were any better make, we would pay the price for it. That it cuts down our profits considerably to compete in prices with the ordinary makes, is easily understood. Yet, after all, it is a pleasure to do business with little complaint. Yet, after all, it is a satisfaction to have permanent following and to increase our constituency yearly.

$16, $18, $20, $22, $25

For strictly high grade clothing which will compare favorably with custom tailor productions at double these prices. Though we believe we have made quite a reputation in this community, we still tell you, that you need not take our word for it—we invite you to compare—we tell you candidly and frankly that you need not buy because you look nor keep because you buy.

Some good buying and liberal selling enables us to make the following extraordinary offerings:

SENATOR DICK ON POLITICS

An Interesting Interview With the Ohio Man on State and National Issues.

HEARST BOOM IN OHIO

Being Pushed for All It Is Worth, With Bryan and Tom Johnson Engineering It—Personal Traits of the New Senator.

Hon. Charles Dick, United States senator from Ohio, has ended a pleasant vacation of several days in New York, which he enjoyed in the company of Mrs. Dick. He has attracted considerable attention as a new force in national affairs; as Senator Hanna's successor in the senate, and as one who must be taken largely into account in any calculations involving the political future of Republicanism in Ohio.

Senator Dick today occupies a position very similar to that of James A. Garfield in the spring of 1880. Garfield was a member of the lower house of congress, and also a senator-elect from Ohio, says James H. Kennedy in a New York letter to the Cleveland Plain Dealer. Dick is in the same position. Garfield never took the oath of office at his seat in the senate, as his nomination and election to the presidency intervened. Dick is not looking for anything of the sort to prevent his early removal from one end of the capitol to the other.

Natural gifts of diplomacy, shrewd political sense, opportunity, and a loyal following, seem to have been several of the elements that have combined to make Charles A. Dick a United States senator, while yet the white hairs of his head are few enough to be counted. Some weeks ago I asked a man from Akron: "Who is mainly responsible for Dick's rapid promotion?" He responded immediately and emphatically:

"Dick."

Seems to be a pretty good summary when you come to think it over. Dick has one advantage. He went to school in Ohio, in the common schools.

SIMPLE WAY TO GAIN WEIGHT

"Mi-o-na, the Flesh Forming Food, Gives Remarkable Results," Says Druggist Reed.

Mi-o-na makes thin people fat. It gives a perfect digestion and cures all stomach troubles. The scrawny, emaciated person always has more or less trouble from indigestion. Mi-o-na will overcome all the ills afflicting the poor, weak, thin dyspeptics. It makes them plump and gives health and strength. It strengthens the digestive organs and restores health so that the daily food is readily assimilated and makes solid bone and firm muscle, rich blood and healthy flesh.

In East Liverpool there are many people who have proven in their own case the remarkable flesh forming qualities of Mi-o-na. It can be used by the most delicate. It contains no alcohol and is not a cod liver oil preparation. It comes in small tablets, costing 50c a box, and if you take one tablet before eating, you can enjoy a hearty meal and feel that health and good flesh will quickly and surely return.

Will Reed will give a written guarantee with every box of Mi-o-na he sells to refund the money if it does not do all that is claimed for it. You certainly can afford to commence using Mi-o-na with the understanding that it costs nothing unless you are cured.

The Ohio schools have had more to do in making great Ohio men than all her money, banks, railroads, and coal mines. They set young men with their faces toward the sun. They taught them to value true character in statesmanship, and morality in public life. They started men like Garfield, and Wade, and McKinley in the right road. Dick learned in the public schools the excellent lesson that unless a man is something and knows something, he does not count for much in northern Ohio. Possibly that order of things may be passing away, but it did exist.

Dick ran for auditor of Summit county because his neighbors asked him to run. He was elected because his neighbors wanted him elected. He went to the Spanish war because he was an able-bodied young man who felt that on the whole he was able to give a good account of himself against any Spaniard alive. When he came home, a piece of good luck fell to him—perhaps the only bit of real luck that as mere luck, has befallen him in his political career. A vacancy had been suddenly made in the congressional representation from his district. It occurred on the very day his regiment reached Akron. Its young leader, colonel or major, I do not remember which, was there in his uniform, his shoulder straps, his campaign honor. Here he was, a military candidate fresh made to hand. "Let's send him to congress." The deed was as good as the word. Yet if Dick had been a putty man or a good-for-nothing, the suggestion would have died in the breath in which it was born. So it was not mere luck, after all.

Senator Dick talks freely and frankly to newspaper men, but not often for publication. He has been sizing up the Democratic situation in Ohio, and as an observer in no wise responsible for the fortunes of that party, was willing to relate to the Plain Dealer the facts as they seem to him to be.

"So far," said Senator Dick, "the Hon. William R. Hearst has been having his way gleefully and without opposition in Ohio, and the indications are that he will keep on having his way, so long as conventions are held and delegates to be selected. The Bryan men are undoubtedly for Hearst, and are doing all that lies in their power to take an unbroken Ohio delegation to their national convention in St. Louis. The support of Tom L. Johnson seems also to be given to the man from New York."

"What does Johnson expect to get out of it, politically?"

"Who knows? Mayor Johnson is no doubt an ambitious man. He is certainly an energetic man. Before the polls were opened in Ohio in November last, and before the Republican avalanche filled the valleys and covered the hills with Republican votes, Mr. Johnson no doubt regarded himself as in the front rank of presidential possibilities. He had been encouraged by his followers in Ohio, and by his Democratic brothers on the outside, to so regard himself. How much the verdict in Ohio may have tempered his ambition and chastened his political spirit, only Mr. Johnson and his political intimates can know. Possibly he may still have hopes of honor in St. Louis—the vice presidency, or even the presidency. But as affairs now stand, Mr. Hearst has the first call on the delegates elected, and I have no doubt will have the call on all of them, from Ashtabula to Scioto."

"How do the Ohio Republicans feel?"

"I find that they are viewing this situation of affairs with a feeling of placid content," responded Senator Dick. "It would be difficult to suggest a reason why they should object to the program or seek to prevent every Ohio Democrat committing himself to Hearst. From a Republican standpoint, we have a feeling that Mr. Hearst would be an ideal Democratic candidate. His nomination would simplify the problem and reduce the situation to definite terms. It would remove the last question as to Roosevelt's election."

"The Democratic chances in Ohio this year? There is not a ghost of a chance for them there, no matter who is nominated."

"Then it is not a question alone of candidate?"

"No Democratic candidate can carry Ohio. What is there for him to carry it on? The party has no policy and no material out of which to construct a platform. Four and eight years ago it had a policy, poor as that was—sixteen to one—but now even that is gone. No, there is no hope for a political party that exists only on negative issues—that can do no more than to say 'No' to everything that is proposed by some one else."

"I was talking the other day," continued Senator Dick, "with an influential Democrat from the south. The conversation touched upon Mr. Hearst's candidacy and some one made the remark that present indications pointed to his nomination at St. Louis. 'Never,' promptly said my southern friend, 'Never in the world. He cannot be nominated because the Democrats of the south will not permit it. They will be a unit on that point and the time has not come when the south is without influence in a national Democratic convention.'"

"How about other candidates?"

"Yes, there are others, I believe. There is some talk about Judge Parker. There was some quiet amusement in the house the other day, caused by an apparent lack of knowledge among Democrats as to one of their most prominent presidential candidates."

"A member from the Democratic side mentioned Judge Parker in eulogistic terms in the course of his speech and referred to him as the next Democratic candidate for president of the United States. A Republican arose and begged permission to ask a question. When it was granted he said: 'I am a little in the dark as to the gentleman whom my friend has mentioned. May I ask him to repeat the name?' 'Judge Parker, of New York,' was the answer. 'Parker? Parker?' said the other. 'Will the gentleman be good enough to give me his initials? I may want to remember him if I hear his name mentioned again.' The Democratic orator was nonplussed. He could not give the name or initials."

GOOD ADVICE TO NERVOUS WOMEN

MRS. GEO. A. HESS,
96 Brown Place, Jersey City, N. J.

Yes, you are run down; you do need a tonic. But you need more than a tonic. You need a remedy that will clean the mucous membranes,—just such a remedy as many women have needed through years of suffering and which they have finally found in Rexall Mucuo-Tone.

WE GUARANTEE THAT MUCU-TONE WILL CURE YOU.

Rexall Mucuo-Tone works through the bloodvessels, acting directly upon the congested cells, driving out the poisons and healing the raw surfaces. It fills the arteries with rich, red, life-giving blood, builds up the body, stops all vital drains, soothes the fagged nerves and brings sound, restful sleep.

DO YOU KNOW WHAT YOUR CONDITION MEANS?

Has anyone ever told you what it means to feel restless,—slightly?—unsettled?—unable to concentrate yourself on your work?—unable to find pleasure or satisfaction in anything?

Or have you ever given careful thought to it yourself?

Well, sooner or later you will be broken down, weak, dizzy—thoroughly tired of living.

The meaning is that some part of your system has been attacked by catarrh.

One after another the organs become deranged; the liver and kidneys are no longer able to purify the blood and the heart becomes affected. Then the stomach loses its power to properly digest food. Sleeplessness, nervousness, melancholy and despair follow. You grow weak, emaciated, haggard. You have pains in the back, under the shoulder-blades and bearing down pains in the lower abdomen.

And probably through it all you have been told that you are merely run down and need a tonic.

SENATOR DICK ON POLITICS

An Interesting Interview With the Ohio Man on State and National Issues.

HEARST BOOM IN OHIO

Being Pushed for All It Is Worth, With Bryan and Tom Johnson Engineering It—Personal Traits of the New Senator.

Hon. Charles Dick, United States senator from Ohio, has ended a pleasant vacation of several days in New York, which he enjoyed in the company of Mrs. Dick. He has attracted considerable attention as a new force in national affairs; as Senator Hanna's successor in the senate, and as one who must be taken largely into account in any calculations involving the political future of Republicanism in Ohio.

Senator Dick today occupies a position very similar to that of James A. Garfield in the spring of 1880. Garfield was a member of the lower house of congress, and also a senator-elect from Ohio, says James H. Kennedy in a New York letter to the Cleveland Plain Dealer. Dick is in the same position. Garfield never took the oath of office at his seat in the senate, as his nomination and election to the presidency intervened. Dick is not looking for anything of the sort to prevent his early removal from one end of the capitol to the other.

Natural gifts of diplomacy, shrewd political sense, opportunity, and a loyal following, seem to have been several of the elements that have combined to make Charles A. Dick a United States senator, while yet the white hairs of his head are few enough to be counted. Some weeks ago I asked a man from Akron: "Who is mainly responsible for Dick's rapid promotion?" He responded immediately and emphatically:

"Dick."

Seems to be a pretty good summary when you come to think it over. Dick has one advantage. He went to school in Ohio, in the common schools.

SIMPLE WAY TO GAIN WEIGHT

"Mi-o-na, the Flesh Forming Food, Gives Remarkable Results," Says Druggist Reed.

Mi-o-na makes thin people fat. It gives a perfect digestion and cures all stomach troubles.

The scrawny, emaciated person always has more or less trouble from indigestion. Mi-o-na will overcome all the ills afflicting the poor, weak, thin dyspeptics. It makes them plump and gives health and strength. It strengthens the digestive organs and restores health so that the daily food is readily assimilated and makes solid bone and firm muscle, rich blood and healthy flesh.

In East Liverpool there are many people who have proven in their own case the remarkable flesh forming qualities of Mi-o-na. It can be used by the most delicate. It contains no alcohol and is not a cod liver oil preparation. It comes in small tablets, costing 50c a box, and if you take one tablet before eating, you can enjoy a hearty meal and feel that health and good flesh will quickly and surely return.

Will Reed will give a written guarantee with every box of Mi-o-na he sells to refund the money if it does not do all that is claimed for it. You certainly can afford to commence using Mi-o-na with the understanding that it costs nothing unless you are cured.

The Ohio schools have had more to do in making great Ohio men than all her money, banks, railroads, and coal mines. They set young men with their faces toward the sun. They taught them to value true character in statesmanship, and morality in public life. They started men like Garfield, and Wade, and McKinley in the right road. Dick learned in the public schools the excellent lesson that unless a man is something and knows something, he does not count for much in northern Ohio. Possibly that order of things may be passing away, but it did exist.

Dick ran for auditor of Summit county because his neighbors asked him to run. He was elected because his neighbors wanted him elected. He went to the Spanish war because he was an able-bodied young man who felt that on the whole he was able to give a good account of himself against any Spaniard alive. When he came home, a piece of good luck fell to him—perhaps the only bit of real luck that has befallen him in his political career. A vacancy had been suddenly made in the congressional representation from his district. It occurred on the very day his regiment reached Akron. Its young leader, colonel or major, I do not remember which, was there in his uniform, his shoulder straps, his campaign honor. Here he was, a military candidate fresh made to hand. "Let's send him to congress." The deed was as good as the word. Yet if Dick had been a putty man or a good-for-nothing, the suggestion would have died in the breath in which it was born. So it was not mere luck, after all.

Senator Dick talks freely and frankly to newspaper men, but not often for publication. He has been sizing up the Democratic situation in Ohio, and as an observer in no wise responsible for the fortunes of that party, was willing to relate to the Plain Dealer the facts as they seem to him to be.

"So far," said Senator Dick, "the Hon. William R. Hearst has been having his way gleefully and without opposition in Ohio, and the indications are that he will keep on having his way, so long as conventions are held and delegates to be selected. The Bryan men are undoubtedly for Hearst, and are doing all that lies in their power to take an unbroken Ohio delegation to their national convention in St. Louis. The support of Tom L. Johnson seems also to be given to the man from New York."

"What does Johnson expect to get out of it, politically?"

"Who knows? Mayor Johnson is no doubt an ambitious man. He is certainly an energetic man. Before the polls were opened in Ohio in November last, and before the Republican avalanche filled the valleys and covered the hills with Republican votes, Mr. Johnson no doubt regarded himself as in the front rank of presidential possibilities. He had been encouraged by his followers in Ohio, and by his Democratic brothers on the outside, to so regard himself. How much the verdict in Ohio may have tempered his ambition and chastened his political spirit, only Mr. Johnson and his political intimates can know. Possibly he may still have hopes of honor in St. Louis—the vice presidency, or even the presidency. But as affairs now stand, Mr. Hearst has the first call on the delegates elected, and I have no doubt will have the call on all of them, from Ashtabula to Scioto."

"How do the Ohio Republicans feel?"

"I find that they are viewing this situation of affairs with a feeling of placid content," responded Senator Dick. "It would be difficult to suggest a reason why they should object to the program or seek to prevent every Ohio Democrat committing himself to Hearst. From a Republican standpoint, we have a feeling that Mr. Hearst would be an ideal Democratic candidate. His nomination would simplify the problem and reduce the situation to definite terms. It would remove the last question as to Roosevelt's election."

"The Democratic chances in Ohio this year? There is not a ghost of a chance for them there, no matter who is nominated."

"Then it is not a question alone of candidate?"

"No Democratic candidate can carry Ohio. What is there for him to carry it on? The party has no policy and no material out of which to construct a platform. Four and eight years ago it had a policy, poor as that was—sixteen to one—but now even that is gone. No, there is no hope for a political party that exists only on negative issues—that can do no more than to say 'No!' to everything that is proposed by some one else."

"I was talking the other day," continued Senator Dick, "with an influential Democrat from the south. The conversation touched upon Mr. Hearst's candidacy and some one made the remark that present indications pointed to his nomination at St. Louis. 'Never,' promptly said my southern friend. 'Never in the world. He cannot be nominated because the Democrats of the south will not permit it. They will be a unit on that point and the time has not come when the south is without influence in a national Democratic convention.'"

"How about other candidates?"

"Yes, there are others, I believe. There is some talk about Judge Parker. There was some quiet amusement in the house the other day, caused by an apparent lack of knowledge among Democrats as to one of their most prominent presidential candidates."

"A member from the Democratic side mentioned Judge Parker in eulogistic terms in the course of his speech and referred to him as the next Democratic candidate for president of the United States. A Republican arose and begged permission to ask a question. When it was granted he said: 'I am a little in the dark as to the gentleman whom my friend has mentioned. May I ask him to repeat the name?' 'Judge Parker, of New York,' was the answer. 'Parker? Parker?' said the other. 'Will the gentleman be good enough to give me his initials? I may want to remember him if I hear his name mentioned again.' The Democratic orator was nonplussed. He could not give the name or initials."

Just as the camel is the ship of the desert, so is the meek and lowly burro a favorite means of transportation among the mountains of Southern California. It is slow but it is sure. It will climb steeper trails than a horse ever dreamed of scaling. Its back is broad—which helps to make riding easy. It is stupid but fairly docile. You need not fear that it will stumble and so you can enjoy the scenery to the utmost.

THE shadow of Anne's grief hung heavy over Gladden Hall a few days later, where Henry and Colonel Tillotson sat alone in the library conversing. It was the eve of the former's departure for the Second congress.

"Patrick," the colonel came out squarely, "what make you of this arrest of La Trouerie?"

"There is something wrong, colonel," he answered, "and 'twill out. Mark me, that young man in no charlatan. I would stake my soul he is not of low character. You are judge enough of human nature to know that."

"Care was on the ship. Besides, he admitted it himself when he was seized at the Raleigh."

Henry leaped from his seat with an exclamation.

"Granted he is not the marquis, the man is no impostor. I want nothing but that night at the King's Arms in Winchester to convince me of that. My God, you should have seen him fight Foy! Hang your marquis! Armand is a man, I tell you! What was there to gain by a vulgar masquerade?"

Rashleigh at this juncture entered, bearing a salver.

"Letter for Mars' Henry," said he. "Mars' Randolph's Eb'nezer fetch it over arter him fum Williamsburg dis mawnin'."

"Why," said Henry, breaking the seal, "'tis from Dr. Franklin. Business of the colonies surely. Stay—you shall hear it."

"London, Jan. 10, 1775. 'Sir—Dr. Craig, who needs no introduction to you, on his return to Virginia will see that this reaches your hand. It will inform you that M. de la Trouerie is arrived from Philadelphia. He astonished me much when he told me that it was too discreetly doubted in the colonies as to the disposition of the court of France with regard to us. The English court here has little of this doubt; indeed there has been actual trepidation. The good news I send by this letter will show you that there was abundant ground for such fears. Not only have King Louis and M. Vergennes his minister of finance, considered together by what means they might assist so unhappy and interesting a people, but I have just learned that a nobleman of great family connection and great wealth is lately settled for your colony, an officer in the flower of his age, who has already proved his talents in Corsica. I am informed by our co-worker Beaumarchais, who is now here at the town house of Lord Mayor Wilkes in France's Court, that this gentleman's judgment is much valued at Versailles, and in case the state of the cause in Virginia (which the king deems most important of the southern colonies) seems to warrant he will doubtless be commissioned to make certain representations touching aid and comfort to come from France in the event of united hostilities. I am satisfied that any civilities and respect that may be shown M. de la Trouerie will be serviceable to our affairs. His mission is, of course, secret. I shall inform no one else of this, trusting the information to your whole discretion. I have the honor to be, sir, your most obedient servant."

"B. FRANKLIN.

"Patrick Henry, Esq., Williamsburg, Va."

Henry read slowly, without a pause, while the other's eyes did not leave his face. When he had finished he looked up with an expression of mingled satisfaction and puzzlement.

"Marquis de la Trouerie!" Colonel Tillotson exclaimed. "Armand's master, then, was the messenger of France! And he is doubtless in Virginia now. But how dares the secretary pose as his master?"

"Because the marquis is dead!" fell a heavy voice behind them.

The host got up frowning.

"Captain Jarrat," said he brusquely, "I like not well these soft footed intrusions. Nor, if I may say it, do I like the dress you wear. Times are come when I no longer welcome a coat of that color in my house."

A smoldering red rose to Jarrat's cheek, but he spoke evenly. "I should beg pardon, colonel, for an unceremonious intrusion into a conversation. Rashleigh let me in."

"Curse Rashleigh!" said the colonel unmistakably.

"I rode to inquire for Miss Tillotson," the visitor continued, "but since I am unwelcome, why, I will betake myself home again."

"One moment, colonel," interposed Henry. "Captain, we spoke of a gentleman as you entered. May I ask what basis you have for your information?"

Jarrat took out his pocketbook, drew forth a yellow paper and handed it to Henry. "The Marquis de la Trouerie died en route to these colonies and was buried at sea. There is the leaf from the logbook of the Two Sisters recounting the unhappy incident. The news of his death was suppressed in British interests."

"And the secretary?" Henry's voice (as calm).

"The incident is now closed, gentlemen, and I violate no confidence. He was bought by the earl-for services."

"My God!" ejaculated Colonel Tillotson. "Are we never to know truth in this world? He was not an impostor and a charlatan. No. He was a British spy."

"Why, then," interrogated Henry, "did Dummore expose him?"

"I exposed him."

"You," the colonel cried.

"I had crossed on the same ship and recognized him at Williamsburg. Discovering the true state of affairs, can you wonder, Colonel Tillotson, at my concern for the intimacy which I saw growing between your niece and this person? I think," he said, masking a glowworm gleam in his eyes, "that my feeling for Mistress Tillotson is not misunderstood by you. I knew Lord Dunmore's plan, and I could not openly tell you the truth. Is it a wonder I forgot that I was a king's man? I did the one thing left to me. I set adrift such suspicions that the governor, to save his own reputation with Williamsburg, was compelled to sacrifice his minion, to himself expose the imposture and to cry himself also deceived. I tell you thus much in confidence. Believe me, sir, I steered the best I knew between the hurt of a lady whom I honor and the governor's displeasure. It was the Seylla of duty and the Charybdis of love. Colonel, I love your niece, and I would not see her suffer humiliation."

Colonel Tillotson rose and paced up and down the floor, plucking at the side curls of his wig.

"And if what you tell us is true," he said, meditating, "I have done you wrong. I am not overkind to your colors, but I have a respect for honest loyalty. God knows 'tis scarce enough. Mayhap I have been unjust. Will you be seated?"

Jarrat sat down, his watchful eyes turning about the room, something strangely like expectancy in them.

The colonel rang for his major domo. "Rashleigh," said he soberly, "ask your Miss Anne to come to the library. And admit no one—no one. Do you hear?"

"Yas, marsa; yas, suh! Nuttin' but er grabarday ha'n't gwine'er git by dat do!"

"Poor child!" Henry's tone was pitiful. "You mean to tell her? At least wait till your wife is returned."

"The sooner she hears some things the better for her. She has her share of pride; never fear."

"The day I was last here, sir," observed Jarrat, "she boasted she would wed him an he were a laborer in your fields."

"Aye, maybe, but not if he were a conspirator against her country. My niece is a daughter of Virginia, sir."

And the master of Gladden Hall noisily took snuff to cover his feelings. Henry's face was like a sphinx.

While they waited came a clatter of hoofs outside. A moment later the hall door was flung open, and Rashleigh was heard in excited jabbering. The colonel repeated an oburgation.

The next instant he jumped to his feet, and Jarrat started as if at an apparition. Armand stood on the threshold, mud splashed and pale.

The newcomer's look ignored the captain. He bowed to Colonel Tillotson and addressed himself to Henry:

"Monsieur, I come to warn you that a detachment of Dummore's men is on its way hither from Yorktown to seize your person."

"The deuce!" shot out the colonel like a javelin. "I thought the price the earl put on you, Patrick, was but brag. He dares violate my house, then. Mount at once and away by the north road."

Henry's gaze had seemed to dart and play about the young Frenchman's face like yellow summer lightning. "And what would the governor with me this time?"

"To transport you to trial for high treason. It was plotted this day aboard the Powey."

"From which you are escaped?"

"Yes, monsieur."

Jarrat's voice entered: "To attack the residence of a Virginian gentleman without crown warrant is not so ready a thing even for a royal governor, but a man may disappear by night from a lonely road and who to blame? Our fleeing marquis, with his nose for delicate decets, is a likely cat'spaw. I swear such overt folly of Dummore's will yet drive me into Whiggery!"

Colonel Tillotson paused in perplexity, but Henry looked at the speaker with a gaze keen and inscrutable as an

Miss Nettie Blackmore, Minneapolis, tells how any young woman may be permanently cured of monthly pains by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"YOUNG WOMEN:—I had frequent headaches of a severe nature, dark spots before my eyes, and at my menstrual periods I suffered untold agony. A member of the lodge advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, but I only scorned good advice and felt that my case was hopeless, but she kept at me until I bought a bottle and started taking it. I soon had the best reason in the world to change my opinion of the medicine, as each day my health improved, and finally I was entirely without pain at my menstruation periods. I am most grateful."—NETTIE BLACKMORE, 28 Central Ave., Minneapolis, Minn.

Painful Periods

are quickly and permanently overcome by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. The above letter is only one of hundreds of thousands which prove this statement to be a fact. Menstruation is a severe strain on a woman's vitality,—if it is painful something is wrong. Don't take narcotics to deaden the pain, but remove the cause—perhaps it is caused by irregularity or womb displacements, or the development of a tumor. Whatever it is, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is guaranteed to cure it.

If there is anything about your case about which you would like special advice, write freely to Mrs. Pinkham. She will treat your letter as strictly confidential. She can surely help you, for no person in America can speak from a wider experience in treating female ills. She has helped hundreds of thousands of women back to health. Her address is Lynn, Mass., and her advice is free. You are very foolish if you do not accept her kind invitation.

Details of Another Case.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Ignorance and carelessness is the cause of most of the sufferings of women. I believe that if we properly understood the laws of health we would all be well, but if the sick women only knew the truth about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, they would be saved much suffering and would soon be cured."

"I used it for five months for a local difficulty which had troubled me for years, and for which I had spent hundreds of dollars in the vain endeavor to rectify. My life forces were being sapped, and I was daily losing my vitality."

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cured me completely, and I am now enjoying the best of health, and am most grateful, and only too pleased to endorse such a great remedy."—MISS JENNIE L. EDWARDS, 604 H St., N. W., Washington, D. C.

"You have no time to spare, monsieur. They were to leave the Powey at sundown. I implore you to haste."

"As well," cautioned Jarrat, "to go by another way than the marquis anticipates."

"You liar!" said Armand, flaming on him. "This man was in the plot. He waits the troops here at this moment. Monsieur, I beseech!"

He did not finish, stricken dumb by the entrance of Anne. She had caught her breath at sight of him and stood, statue-like, in the candlelight. Then she held out both arms and ran toward him with a glad cry:

"Louis! They have released you! Oh, thank God; thank God!"

CHAPTER XIII.

THE shadow of Anne's grief hung heavy over Gladden Hall a few days later, where Henry and Colonel Tillotson sat alone in the library conversing. It was the eve of the former's departure for the Second congress.

"Patrick," the colonel came out squarely, "what make you of this arrest of La Trouerie?"

"There is something wrong, colonel," he answered, "and 'twill out. Mark me, that young man is no charlatan. I would stake my soul he is not of low character. You are judge enough of human nature to know that."

"Cary was on the ship. Besides, he admitted it himself when he was seized at the Raleigh."

Henry leaped from his seat with an exclamation.

"Granted he is not the marquis, the man is no impostor. I want nothing but that night at the King's Arms in Winchester to convince me of that. My God, you should have seen him fight Foy! Hang your marquis! Armand is a man, I tell you! What was there to gain by a vulgar masquerade?"

Rashleigh at this juncture entered, bearing a salver.

"Letter for Mrs. Henry," said he.

"Mars' Randolph's Eb'nezer fetch it over arter him fum Williamsburg dis mawnin'."

"Why," said Henry, breaking the seal, "'tis from Dr. Franklin. Business of the colonies surely. Stay—you shall hear it."

"Sir—Dr. Crank, who needs no introduction to you, on his return to Virginia will see that this reaches your hand. It will inform you that M. de Penet is arrived from Philadelphia. He astonished me much when he told me that it was too directly doubted in the colonies as to the disposition of the court of France with regard to us. The English court here has little of this doubt; indeed there has been actual trepidation. The good news I send by this letter will show you that there was abundant ground for such fears. Not only have King Louis and M. Turgot, his minister of finance, considered together what means they might assist us in, but they have just learned that a nobleman of great family connection and great wealth is lately sailed for your colony, an officer in the flower of his age, who has already at Versailles, and in case of the state of the cause in Virginia (which the king deems most important of the southern colonies) seems to warrant he will doubtless be commissioned to make certain representations touching aid and comfort to come from France in the event of united hostilities. I am satisfied that any civilities and respect that may be shown M. de Penet, will be serviceable to our affairs. His mission is, of course, secret. I shall inform no one else of this, trusting the information to your whole discretion. I have the honor to be, sir, your most obedient servant."

"B. FRANKLIN.

"Patrick Henry, Esq., Williamsburg, Va."

Henry read slowly, without a pause, while the other's eyes did not leave his face. When he had finished he looked up with an expression of mingled satisfaction and puzzlement.

"Marquis de la Trouerie!" Colonel Tillotson exclaimed. "Armand's master, then, was the messenger of France! And he is doubtless in Virginia now. But how darest the secretary pose as his master?"

"Because the marquis is dead!" fell a heavy voice behind them.

The host got up frowning.

"Captain Jarrat," said he brusquely, "I like not well these soft footed intrusions. Nor, if I may say it, do I like the dress you wear. Times are come when I no longer welcome a coat of that color in my house."

A smoldering red rose to Jarrat's cheek, but he spoke evenly. "I should beg pardon, colonel, for an unceremonious intrusion into a conversation. Rashleigh let me in."

"Curse Rashleigh!" said the colonel unmissably.

"I rode to inquire for Miss Tillotson," the visitor continued, "but since I am unwelcome, why, I will betake myself home again."

"One moment, colonel," interposed Henry. "Captain, we spoke of a gentleman as you entered. May I ask what basis you have for your information?"

Jarrat took out his pocketbook, drew forth a yellow paper and handed it to Henry. "The Marquis de la Trouerie died en route to these colonies and was buried at sea. There is the leaf from the logbook of the Two Sisters recounting the unhappy incident. The news of his death was suppressed in British interests."

"And the secretary?" Henry's voice was calm.

"The incident is now closed, gentlemen, and I violate no confidence. He was bought by the earl—for services."

"My God!" ejaculated Colonel Tillotson. "Are we never to know truth in this world? He was not an impostor and a charlatan. No. He was a British spy!"

"Why, then," interrogated Henry, "did Dunmore expose him?"

"I exposed him."

"You!" the colonel cried.

"I had crossed on the same ship and recognized him at Williamsburg. Discovering the true state of affairs, can you wonder, Colonel Tillotson, at my concern for the intimacy which I saw growing between your niece and this person? I think," he said, masking a glow of triumph in his eyes, "that my feeling for Miss Tillotson is not misunderstood by you. I knew Lord Dun-

"Because the marquis is dead!"

more's plan, and I could not openly tell you the truth. Is it a wonder I forgot that I was a king's man? I did the one thing left to me. I set about such suspicions that the governor, to save his own reputation with Williamsburg, was compelled to sacrifice his minion, to himself expose the imposture and to cry himself also deceived. I tell you thus much in confidence. Believe me, sir, I steered the best I knew between the hurt of a lady whom I honor and the governor's displeasure. It was the scylla of duty and the Charybdis of love. Colonel, I love your niece, and I would not see her suffer humiliation."

Colonel Tillotson rose and paced up and down the floor, plucking at the side curls of his wig.

"And if what you tell us is true," he said, meditating, "I have done you wrong. I am not overkind to your colors, but I have a respect for honest loyalty. God knows 'tis scarce enough. Mayhap I have been unjust. Will you be seated?"

Jarrat sat down, his watchful eyes turning about the room, something strangely like expectancy in them.

The colonel rang for his major domo.

"Rashleigh," said he soberly, "ask your Miss Anne to come to the library. And admit no one—no one. Do you hear?"

"Yes, marse; yes, suh! Nuttin' but er grabyard ha'n't gwinter git by dat do!"

"Poor child!" Henry's tone was pitiful. "You mean to tell her? At least wait till your wife is returned."

"The sooner she hears some things the better for her. She has her share of pride; never fear."

"The day I was last here, sir," observed Jarrat, "she boasted she would wed him an he were a laborer in your fields."

"Aye, maybe, but not if he were a conspirator against her country. My niece is a daughter of Virginia, sir."

And the master of Gladden Hall noisily took snuff to cover his feelings. Henry's face was like a sphinx.

While they waited came a clatter of hoofs outside. A moment later the hall door was flung open, and Rashleigh was heard in excited jabbering. The colonel repeated an objection.

The next instant he jumped to his feet, and Jarrat started as if at an apparition. Armand stood on the threshold, mud splashed and pale.

The newcomer's look ignored the captain. He bowed to Colonel Tillotson and addressed himself to Henry:

"Monsieur, I come to warn you that a detachment of Dunmore's men is on its way hither from Yorktown to seize your person."

"The deuce!" shot out the colonel like a javelin. "I thought the price the earl put on you, Patrick, was but brag. He dares violate my house, then. Mount at once and away by the north road."

Henry's gaze had seemed to dart and play about the young Frenchman's face like yellow summer lightning. "And what would the governor with me this time?"

"To transport you to trial for high treason. It was plotted this day aboard the Fovey."

"From which you are escaped?"

"Yes, monsieur."

Jarrat's voice entered: "To attack the residence of a Virginian gentleman without crown warrant is not so ready a thing even for a royal governor, but a man may disappear by night from a lonely road and who to blame? Our fleeing marquis, with his nose for delicate deceptions, is a likely cat's paw. I swear such overt folly of Dunmore's will yet drive me into Whiggery!"

Colonel Tillotson paused in perplexity, but Henry looked at the speaker with a gaze keen and inscrutable as an

Miss Nettie Blackmore, Minneapolis, tells how any young woman may be permanently cured of monthly pains by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"YOUNG WOMEN:—I had frequent headaches of a severe nature, dark spots before my eyes, and at my menstrual periods I suffered untold agony. A member of the lodge advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, but I only scorned good advice and felt that my case was hopeless, but she kept at me until I bought a bottle and started taking it. I soon had the best reason in the world to change my opinion of the medicine, as each day my health improved, and finally I was entirely without pain at my menstruation periods. I am most grateful."—NETTIE BLACKMORE, 28 Central Ave., Minneapolis, Minn.

are quickly and permanently overcome by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. The above letter is only one of hundreds of thousands which prove this statement to be a fact. Menstruation is a severe strain on a woman's vitality, and if it is painful something is wrong. Don't take narcotics to deaden the pain, but remove the cause—perhaps it is caused by irregularity or womb displacements, or the development of a tumor. Whatever it is, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is guaranteed to cure it.

If there is anything about your case about which you would like special advice, write freely to Mrs. Pinkham. She will treat your letter as strictly confidential. She can surely help you, for no person in America can speak from a wider experience in treating female ills. She has helped hundreds of thousands of women back to health. Her address is Lynn, Mass., and her advice is free. You are very foolish if you do not accept her kind invitation.

Details of Another Case.
"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Ignorance and carelessness is the cause of most of the sufferings of women. I believe that if we properly understood the laws of health we would all be well, but if the sick women only knew the truth about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, they would be saved much suffering and would soon be cured."

"I used it for five months for a local difficulty which had troubled me for years, and for which I had spent hundreds of dollars in the vain endeavor to rectify. My life forces were being sapped, and I was daily losing my vitality."

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cured me completely, and I am now enjoying the best of health, and am most grateful, and only too pleased to endorse such a great remedy."—MISS JENNIE L. EDWARDS, 604 H St., N. W., Washington, D. C.

Mrs. Pinkham, whose address is Lynn, Mass., will answer cheerfully and without cost all letters addressed to her by sick women.

Indian's above that flickering half smile of his.

"You have no time to spare, monsieur. They were to leave the Fovey at sundown. I implore you to haste."

"As well," cautioned Jarrat, "to go by another way than the marquis anticipates."

"You har!" said Armand, flaming on him. "This man was in the plot. He waits the troops here at this moment. Monsieur, I beseech!"

He did not finish, stricken dumb by the entrance of Anne. She had caught her breath at sight of him and stood, statue-like, in the candlelight. Then she held out both arms and ran toward him with a glad cry:

"Louis! They have released you! Oh, thank God; thank God!"

"The Camel of California"

Just as the camel is the ship of the desert, so is the meek and lowly burro a favorite means of transportation among the mountains of Southern California. It is slow but it is sure. It will climb steeper trails than a horse ever dreamed of scaling. Its back is broad—which helps to make riding easy. It is stupid but fairly docile. You need not fear that it will stumble and so you can enjoy the scenery to the utmost.

Going to California via the Rock Island System is very different from traveling thro' the State on the back of a burro. But there is this similarity—both are pleasant.

I am always glad to quote rates and give information about our thru car service.

PORT ARTHUR CLOSED

Japanese Sink Seven Merchant Steamships in the Harbor's Entrance.

OFFICIAL REPORT IS EXPECTED

St. Petersburg Stirred Up Over Report That Japs Contemplate Landing an Army in Chinese Territory—Would Be Very Advantageous.

London, March 25.—The Daily Telegraph publishes a despatch from its Tokyo correspondent under yesterday's date, which says:

"On the night of March 22 the Japanese fleet renewed the attempt to bottle up Port Arthur. Sixteen warships escorted seven merchant steamers to the mouth of the harbor and under cover of the bombardment the steamers ran in and were sunk in desired positions. Three thousand Japanese officers and bluejackets volunteered for this duty. An official report is expected this evening."

St. Petersburg, March 25.—When Gen. Kouropatkin reaches Mukden it is understood that the Emperor's forces will be divided into three armies—one on the peninsula, including the Port Arthur garrison, under Gen. Stoessel, military commander at Port Arthur; a central army under Gen. Linewitch, and a northern army under Gen. Baron Stackelburg. Any idea that Gen. Kouropatkin's arrival will be signalled by aggressive tactics is discouraged in the highest military circles, where attention is called to the general's repeated injunctions—patience, patience, patience.

"We can afford to wait whether or not the Japanese can," is the sentiment among the believers in Gen. Kouropatkin. He expects to await the Japanese to fight him on ground of his own choosing. There will be no forward movement into Korea. On the contrary, the Russians at the Yalu are now screening their concentration to the westward and they probably will retire as the Japanese advance in force, harassing and retarding them as much as possible until the proper time to uncover the main Russian army.

The continued landing of Japanese troops in Korea is exactly to the liking ing of the Russian strategists.

The war office in receipt of reports that the Japanese are preparing to land on neutral Chinese territory on the west coast of the Gulf of Liao-Tung, either at Tien Kian-Cheng in Kin-Chau bay, or at Shan-Hai-Kwan.

Japanese May Land in China.
Although slow to believe that Japan contemplates a violation of her pledge to respect neutral Chinese territory, the reports received at the ministry of war are so specific that they compel consideration. The presence of disguised Japanese soldiers acting as spies along the Shan-Hai-Kwan road has been established, and Russian agents report that there is every indication of an intended landing on the west coast of the Gulf of Liao-Tung. The information conveyed by these agents seems to coincide with other information indicating a complete change in the Japanese plan of campaign or of its entrance into a second stage practically inviting the abandonment of further heavy landings of troops in Korea.

According to advices received by the government there are only about 70,000 Japanese troops in the Hermit Kingdom. It is considered possible that the Japanese reckoned on a complete mobilization there much sooner but that difficulties met with in the transporting of troops from Japan and over the roads in Korea proved more serious than expected, and the Japanese found themselves unable to deliver a frontal attack in Manchuria before the Russian troops arrived in sufficient force to check them. At any rate the latest advices indicate that the Japanese will not send many more soldiers into Korea.

bigger the army disembarked there the better they will be suited, being convinced that once Korea is filled with the Mikado's soldiers by pressure of numbers and clamor of public opinion, Japan will be driven forward into the arms of the Russians. Nothing but a complete change of plan in the Japanese campaign, as developed up to date, will compel the Russians to depart from their determination to play a consistent, waiting game, being persuaded that all the advantages of such a policy lie on their side.

The Russians also express much more satisfaction at the present situation at Liao-Tung. The forces on the peninsula have been reinforced to an extent which will render a Japanese landing there difficult, if not impossible, and the garrison at Port Arthur has been amply provisioned to withstand a siege. So far as the peninsula is concerned the preparations there may now be regarded as complete.

Togo Reports Engagement.
Tokio, March 25.—Vice Admiral Togo's report of the fifth attack on Port Arthur which was made on March 22, has reached Tokio and is as follows:
"Two flotillas of destroyers were outside Port Arthur, as instructed, from the night of the 21st until the morning of the 22d. Although during this time our destroyers were under the fire of the enemy they sustained no damage. The main fleet arrived off Port Arthur at 8 o'clock on the morning of the 22d.
"I dispatched a part of the fleet in the direction of Pigeon bay, and ordered the battleships Fuji and Yashima to make an indirect bombardment against the inner side of the port. During the bombardment, the enemy's ships gradually came out of the harbor and at the time when the indirect bombardment stopped, the number of Russian ships was five battleships, four cruisers and several destroyers. We believed the enemy was trying by making a movement of their fleet to draw us nearer the forts. The enemy's ships shelled us indirectly and many of their shots fell near the battleship Fuji, but our ships sustained no damage. About 3 o'clock our vessels withdrew off the port."

Paris, March 25.—A despatch to the Times from St. Petersburg says General Sakharoff, chief of the general staff, has been appointed minister of war, to succeed General Kuropatkin.

Berlin, March 25.—Russia has purchased the Telefunken system of wireless telegraph apparatus for use in connection with the transport of troops across Lake Baikal. The apparatus has already been shipped.

St. Petersburg, March 25.—Orders have been cabled to Admiral Wierens to keep his squadron at Piraeus, Greece, until further instructions.

Irkutsk, March 25.—The entire population of this place and the troops under General Chichago gave General Kuropatkin an enthusiastic welcome when he arrived here on his way to Mukden. The general is accompanied by Colonel Khorvart, superintendent of the trans-Siberian railroad, with whom he has been conferring regarding the prompt transportation of troops and supplies.

Paris, March 25.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Echo de Paris, says it is affirmed that the Russian Admiralty has bought the North German Lloyd steamer Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse.

INQUIRY VOTED DOWN.

Postal Investigation Is Voted by the House of Representatives.

Washington, March 25.—The house of representatives has again put itself on record against any investigation of the postoffice department. Eight pages of the postoffice appropriation bill were disposed of. The question of an investigation of the postoffice department was brought up by Mr. Williams, the minority leader, who proposed an amendment providing for a select committee of five members of the house and three senators to make a complete investigation into the alleged frauds in that department. He taunted the Republicans for their failure to order an investigation and said the party was opposed to it.

The chair sustained a point of order by Mr. Overstreet against the amendment and when Mr. Williams appealed the chair was sustained, 133 to 99.

The senate passed the Indian appropriation bill. After the routine features of the bill had been disposed of Mr. Bacon again raised the question of civil service appointments, basing his remarks upon the statement made by Mr. Hoar that senators from states of political faith different from that of the president should be consulted in the matter of appointments to office. Mr. Bacon contended that the Southern states were practically disfranchised under a Republican administration and said that this condition of affairs was contrary to the intention of the founders of the government.

Early in the day Mr. Gibson spoke in support of his bill for the repeal of the desert land, the timber and stone laws, and of the commutation clause of the homestead law.

STORM AT CHICAGO.

Suburban Towns Badly Damaged and Many Are Injured.

Chicago, March 25.—A severe storm passed over Chicago last night. Great damage was done in the suburbs and considerable loss was sustained north of the city proper. The town of Indiana Harbor, 20 miles southeast of Chicago, was the heaviest sufferer. Three persons were killed and 13 are missing. Eighteen residences were blown down and several persons hurt. It is almost impossible to obtain details, because of the condition of the telegraph and telephone wires, nearly all of them being down. The wires of the electric lines were knocked down and the power was shut off, making it impossible for anybody to reach the place.

The number of persons injured at Indiana Harbor will probably approximate 25. All three of the hotels in the place were badly damaged. The storm created havoc in the town of Hammond, Ind. A number of residences were badly damaged, and two persons were injured. One end of the large plant of the Republic Iron and Steel company was blown down, causing a loss of at least $25,000. A number of business houses were unroofed and the city is in darkness.

In Grand Crossing, eight miles south of the center of the city a number of buildings were wrecked, freight cars blown about the yards and the tracks of the railroads covered with debris to such an extent that the majority of incoming trains were compelled to call upon their passengers to assist in removing the wreckage from the tracks so that the trains could proceed.

Grand Rapids, Mich., March 25.—A small but destructive tornado struck the south end of the city last night, doing damage that reached into the thousands. Two persons were injured.

SEEKING KNOWLEDGE.
Japs Wish to Gauge Influence of Religion in America.

Seattle, Wash., March 25.—A party of wealthy Japanese arrived here to visit the principal centers of the United States and will inspect rolling mills and factories of all kinds, look into the conditions of the poor, examine the practical working of the laws and ascertain if possible whether religion enters to any appreciable extent into the actual daily life of the people.

One of the party, a graduate of Tokyo university, said that after most careful examination, absolutely unprejudiced and free from preconception, the Japanese had unanimously and unhesitatingly rejected the religion of the Europeans as something which they did not want and did not need.

BURTON IS ON TRIAL

Chief Postoffice Inspector Testifies Against Kansas Senator.

NEWSPAPER MAN ON THE STAND

Defendant Alleged to Have Appeared Before Postoffice Department as Attorney and Not as an Officer of United States.

St. Louis, March 25.—The government rested its case in the trial of United States Senator Joseph R. Burton of Kansas, who is charged with having illegally accepted fees from the Rialto Grain and Securities company of St. Louis. Chief Postoffice Inspector Cochran testified that Burton had asked him on what charge the indictment had been returned. "I told him," continued Cochran, "that as I had been a witness before the grand jury I could not discuss the evidence, but that the indictment was found under section No. 1762 Revised Statutes. Burton told me that he had appeared before the postoffice department, not as United States senator, but simply as an attorney for the Rialto Grain and Securities company. I pointed out to him that my understanding of the section of the statutes was that the fact that he Will Reel Guarantees to Refund the Money if Hyomei Fails to Cure the Worst Case of Catarrh.

It is no uncommon thing to see a medicine advertised as a "guaranteed cure." But investigation usually shows that the guarantee is made by some unknown firm, hundreds of miles away. The guarantee, though, that comes with Hyomei, is entirely different. It is made by Will Reed, one of the most reliable druggists in this section. He advertises that if Hyomei does not cure the worst case of catarrh, he will return the money without any question or argument. No business house in East Liverpool has a better reputation for square dealing than Will Reed, and when he guarantees that he will refund the money if Hyomei fails to cure catarrh, no one has any question as to the agreement being lived up to, both in the spirit and letter.

Hyomei is very easy and pleasant to use. Just breathe it through the little inhaler that comes with every outfit; every breath will bring recovery so much the nearer. It kills all the germs of catarrhal troubles in the air passages of the head, throat and lungs, soothes and heals the irritated mucous membrane, and is the only natural cure for catarrh.

The complete outfit costs but one dollar, and extra bottles of Hyomei can be obtained for fifty cents. Do not let a slight catarrhal trouble develop into one that may be serious and chronic. Use Hyomei at once, remembering that you run no risk whatever when you try Hyomei on Will Reed's offer of "no cure, no pay."

had acted as the attorney for the Rialto company was responsible for his indictment."

J. H. Aubere, a Washington newspaper correspondent, then took the stand. He testified that he had obtained an interview with Senator Burton at about 3 o'clock on the afternoon that the indictment was made public.

Revised His Own Interview.

"Shortly after 9 o'clock that night," continued Mr. Aubere, "Burton visited my office and requested that he be allowed to read the interview which I had prepared from notes I had made in the afternoon. I submitted the manuscript to Senator Burton and he scanned it through carefully. The only change he made in the original was that at his dictation I inserted the following words: 'I did not act as an attorney for the Rialto Grain and Securities company before the postoffice department in any matters.'"

Inspector Cochran was then recalled and in reply to questions stated that the time of his visit to Senator Burton was shortly after 5 o'clock on the afternoon that Senator Burton alleged to have given the interview to Mr. Aubere.

When he was first on the stand Inspector Cochran testified that Senator Burton had visited him at the postoffice department, the exact date he could not remember, he said, and inquired regarding complaints against the Rialto company.

Many Make Money on the Side.

"At that time there had not been any complaints," continued Inspector Cochran, "and I so informed the senator. February 5, 1902, I received a telephone message from Senator Burton asking me to call on him at his office. After discussing several matters in which the Brooks Brokerage company, the predecessors of the Rialto company, was involved, Senator Burton told me that he wished to represent the Rialto company in matters before the department, for which he was to receive a large fee. He assured me that he did not wish to antagonize the department. He also said that he had consulted several of his colleagues in the senate and that they had assured him that his connection with the Rialto company was legal and that many senators had increased their income in several ways. Senator Burton said that he had lost $70,000 recently, for which he was not legally responsible, but which he wished to repay, and that his fees would revert to that use."

APPEAL TO PRESIDENT.

Colorado Miners Demand Rights as American Citizens.

Denver, March 25.—A special train has carried more troops to Telluride. The force of 300 men will be under command of Adjutant-General Bell.

Governor Peabody said that he declared San Miguel county in a state of insurrection because of the representations made to him by public officials and citizens of the town who declared that a body of men were arming outside the county to join with men inside the county for the purpose of destroying property and inflicting personal injuries on persons in Telluride.

A despatch from Telluride contained the news that 20 Findlanders have left that place. It is inferred from this fact that the deportation of strikers and their families has been resumed by the military.

It was reported that the Western Federation of miners had made a second appeal to President Roosevelt to send Federal troops to Colorado. The union men take the ground that Governor Peabody only put martial law in force at Telluride to prevent the injunction against the Citizens' Alliance from becoming operative. It is further stated that the governor has prevented the deported men from enjoying their full rights as loyal American citizens and the call on the president for aid contends that Governor Peabody is violating the provision of the federal constitution.

Queen Alexandra of England Eats Dinner With the Poor of London.

HER MAJESTY ENJOYS THE FARE

Escorted by Sir Thomas Lipton, She Greets an Impoverished Army of Destitute and Partakes of Their Humble Mutton and Potatoes.

London, March 25.—The routine of royal life was interestingly broken when Queen Alexandra paid an informal visit to the Alexandra Trust and there enjoyed a 9-cent dinner among the factory employees and children of the East End of London.

The queen has always taken keen interest in the institution, which was founded on her plan to give the poor the cheapest possible food without savoring of charity. She arranged the visit privately with Sir Thomas Lipton, who is the principal contributor to the institution. They were accompanied by Princess Victoria, Earl de Grey, treasurer of the household of Her Majesty, and Countess de Grey, Miss Knollys and Sidney Greville, the private secretary of the queen.

A rumor of the queen's coming partially leaked out and the dining rooms were packed. Among those present were John D. Crimmins of New York, and Miss Crimmins, who had been let in to the secret. Like a factory girl who had just preceded her, the queen went to the desk and asked for eight dinner tickets, tendering half a crown. She was told that they would be six pence more, which Earl de Grey promptly contributed.

Lipton Escorts the Queen.

Sir Thomas Lipton conducted the royal guest, who was simply dressed in black, through the dining room. The news of the identity of this extraordinarily young looking woman soon spread and the children crowded around her, curiously touching her dress and looking up in her face. Those who could not get near stood on tables to catch a glimpse of their queen. Soon the whole building rang with the shrill cheer of the delighted children and girls. The queen saw two mites crying.

"What is the matter?" she asked. They had lost their dinner tickets. Their grief was quickly turned to joy by the gift of a shilling from the royal purse.

So thickly did the children, most of them typically ragged urchins of the East End, crowd around the royal visitor that one of the attendants tried to make a passage for her.

"Don't bother," said the queen. "I did not come here to disturb them."

Queen Eats Soup and Potatoes.

After talking with several factory employees who were in the midst of their meal, which is daily served to some three to four thousand persons, the queen and her party, accompanied by Sir Thomas, went up stairs to the room where they all redeemed their meal tickets. For her nine cents the queen had soup, lamb, potatoes, a large helping of plum-pudding, a glass of water and a mug of coffee. She seemed to enjoy it.

After another walk around the rooms the queen drove off amidst hearty cheers, expressing herself delighted to see so many people enjoying themselves and confessing that she really quite liked the bill of fare.

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup seems especially adapted to the needs of the children. Pleasant to take; soothing in its influence. It is the remedy of all ailments for every form of throat and lung disease.

CANCER CURED BY LIFE PLANT

A REMARKABLE DISCOVERY THAT IS ATTRACTING THE ATTENTION OF MEDICAL SCIENCE EVERYWHERE.

A POSITIVE CURE EFFECTED IN THE CASE OF MR. J. D. MILLS, A WELL KNOWN AND HIGHLY RESPECTED CITIZEN OF NEW CUMBERLAND, OHIO, WHO SUFFERED FOR ELEVEN YEARS WITH THE DREAD DISEASE.

MR. MILLS' REMARKABLE RECOVERY

Eleven years ago Mr. Mills discovered a fungus growth appearing on his left ear. It rapidly grew to such alarming proportions and became so painful that he sought the advice of his family physician, who, after a careful examination pronounced it cancer. Mr. Mills at once began treatment for the disease, faithfully applying the remedies prescribed by various doctors and medicines advertised as positive cures for the most stubborn of all blood diseases. He found no relief in any of them and finally came face to face with death. He was told he must undergo the uncertainties of a surgical operation, else he certainly could live no longer than four or five months. It was his only chance.

At this time, his good friend, the Rev. Dr. Scott, who had unbounded faith in LIFE PLANT as a blood purifier and who has seen hundreds of remarkable cures in cases of blood diseases, persuaded him to try a bottle of the remedy. Accepting it purely as a tonic to his run-down system; as an agent for the purifying of his cancer-ridden blood, he began using it regularly. To his surprise the first bottle lessened the eating, gnawing sensation near the ear, and, hoping against hope, he continued its use until the cancer entirely disappeared and he once more became well and strong.

Read His Sincere Message to Other Sufferers

MR. MILLS' OWN STORY

The Life Plant Co., Canton, Ohio.
Gentlemen:—Eleven years ago a cancer appeared on my left ear; it was small at first, but, as is the case with a growth of this kind, it gradually increased in size and severity. One of the cartilages of the ear was entirely eaten away. There was a raw sore on my ear and face as broad as your finger, and about two inches long. You can imagine how I suffered. That eating, gnawing sensation continued without interruption day and night. Occasionally a blood vessel was eaten off and the blood would trickle down my face. For three years I could not be in bed without tying up my face on account of the life, inch by inch.
I, of course, sought advice from numerous physicians; I called upon physicians in St. Louis and Cleveland, and was under treatment by local physicians for several years. The last physician to whom I talked told me plainly that I could not live four months unless I submitted to an operation. It was then that the good old Rev. Dr. Scott told me he thought LIFE PLANT would help me.
I immediately began taking LIFE PLANT; I had not taken one bottle until the eating sensation lessened. I stopped all other treatment, and have taken nothing but LIFE PLANT since.
I realized that I could not be cured of a disease that had been coming on me for years and had reached the stage of development that my case had, by one or two bottles of LIFE PLANT or any other medicine. I settled down to taking this one remedy, and, while I improved from the very beginning, the cancer was not entirely cured for two years.
I began taking LIFE PLANT on or about the 10th day of September, 1897, and now I am 57 years of age, and as well as ever, sound in every particular. There is no more cancer, the sore is entirely healed, and nothing but a scar remains to show that my life was once threatened with a deadly cancer.
Now I want to say that in view of the fact that cancer is one of the most severe and stubborn blood diseases known, and in view of the fact that LIFE PLANT cured me, I firmly believe that LIFE PLANT will cure any disease arising from impure blood if the patient will persist in its use as I did. I have said nothing but the truth, and stand ready to back every word with an affidavit if called upon to do so.
Wishing you success, I am, sincerely yours,
JAMES D. MILLS.

We will pay the expenses of any person or persons from any part of the United States to New Cumberland, Ohio, and award them a reasonable compensation besides, if upon interviewing Mr. Mills they do not find that HE WAS POSITIVELY CURED OF CANCER BY LIFE PLANT, according to his statement above.

Life Plant--An Effective Germicide

LIFE PLANT purifies and cleanses the blood, by expelling those micro-organisms that are the known and direct causes of catarrh, rheumatism, scrofula, eczema and all other diseases of the vital life fluid. These minute specimens of the animal kingdom permeate the whole system, propagating by thousands, living and thriving on the red corpuscles of the blood until the strength is sapped and one or other of the dread diseases is fully developed.
To destroy the disease the cause must be removed—the germ must be killed. LIFE PLANT is guaranteed to be an active, potent and effective germicide. With unerring force it sweeps from the system the countless little enemies that threaten and destroy the health. It makes new and pure blood, it restores the body to its normal condition of strength. As such an agent LIFE PLANT is positively and absolutely guaranteed.
Cancer is a blood disease. But the germ that causes it preys not only upon the blood, but upon the flesh of the body as well, eating its way through the vital tissues and organisms, destroying everything in its path. Impure blood can be purified, but flesh or organs of the body that have been eaten away cannot be restored, hence cancer is known as an incurable disease.

They were accompanied by Princess Victoria, Earl de Grey, treasurer of the household of Her Majesty, and Countess de Grey, Miss Knollys and Sidney Greville, the private secretary of the queen.

A rumor of the queen's coming partially leaked out and the dining rooms were packed. Among those present were John D. Crimmins of New York, and Miss Crimmins, who had been let in to the secret. Like a factory girl who had just preceded her, the queen went to the desk and asked for eight dinner tickets, tendering half a crown. She was told that they would be six pence more, which Earl de Grey promptly contributed.

Lipton Escorts the Queen.

Sir Thomas Lipton conducted the royal guest, who was simply dressed in black, through the dining room. The news of the identity of this extraordinarily young looking woman soon spread and the children crowded around her, curiously touching her dress and looking up in her face. Those who could not get near stood on tables to catch a glimpse of their queen. Soon the whole building rang with the shrill cheer of the delighted children and girls. The queen saw two mites crying.

"What is the matter?" she asked. They had lost their dinner tickets. Their grief was quickly turned to joy by the gift of a shilling from the royal purse.

So thickly did the children, most of them typically ragged urchins of the East End, crowd around the royal visitor that one of the attendants tried to make a passage for her.

"Don't bother," said the queen. "I did not come here to disturb them."

Queen Eats Soup and Potatoes.

After talking with several factory employees who were in the midst of their meal, which is daily served to some three to four thousand persons, the queen and her party, accompanied by Sir Thomas, went up stairs to the room where they all redeemed their meal tickets. For her nine cents the queen had soup, lamb, potatoes, a large helping of plum-pudding, a glass of water and a mug of coffee. She seemed to enjoy it.

After another walk around the rooms the queen drove off amidst hearty cheers, expressing herself delighted to see so many people enjoying themselves and confessing that she really quite liked the bill of fare.

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup seems especially adapted to the needs of the children. Pleasant to take; soothing in its influence. It is the remedy of all remedies for every form of throat and lung disease.

CANCER CURED BY LIFE PLANT

A REMARKABLE DISCOVERY THAT IS ATTRACTING THE ATTENTION OF MEDICAL SCIENCE EVERYWHERE.

A POSITIVE CURE EFFECTED IN THE CASE OF MR. J. D. MILLS, A WELL KNOWN AND HIGHLY RESPECTED CITIZEN OF NEW CUMBERLAND, OHIO, WHO SUFFERED FOR ELEVEN YEARS WITH THE DREAD DISEASE.

MR. MILLS' REMARKABLE RECOVERY

Eleven years ago Mr. Mills discovered a fungus growth appearing on his left ear. It rapidly grew to such alarming proportions and became so painful that he sought the advice of his family physician, who, after a careful examination pronounced it cancer. Mr. Mills at once began treatment for the disease, faithfully applying the remedies prescribed by various doctors and medicines advertised as positive cures for the most stubborn of all blood diseases. He found no relief in any of them and finally came face to face with death. He was told he must undergo the uncertainties of a surgical operation, else he certainly could live no longer than four or five months. It was his only chance.

At this time, his good friend, the Rev. Dr. Seutt, who had unbounded faith in LIFE PLANT as a blood purifier and who has seen hundreds of remarkable cures in cases of blood diseases, persuaded him to try a bottle of the remedy. Accepting it purely as a tonic to his run-down system; as an agent for the purifying of his cancer-ridden blood, he began using it regularly. To his surprise the first bottle lessened the eating, gnawing sensation near the ear, and, hoping against hope, he continued its use until the cancer entirely disappeared and he once more became well and strong.

MR. MILLS' OWN STORY

The Life Plant Co., Canton, Ohio.
Gentlemen:—Eleven years ago a cancer appeared on my left ear; it was small at first, but, as is the case with a growth of this kind, it gradually increased in size and severity. One of the cartilages of the ear was entirely eaten away. There was a raw sore on my ear and face as broad as your finger, and about two inches long. You can imagine how I suffered. That eating, gnawing sensation continued without interruption day and night. Occasionally a blood vessel was eaten off and the blood would trickle down my face. For three years I could not be in bed without tying up my face on account of the continued suppuration of the wound. My condition was indeed deplorable; a rancorous, loathsome cancer, eating away my life, inch by inch.
I, of course, sought advice from numerous physicians; I called upon physicians in St. Louis and Cleveland, and was under treatment by local physicians for several years. The last physician to whom I talked told me plainly that I could not live four months unless I submitted to an operation. It was then that the good old Rev. Dr. Seutt told me he thought LIFE PLANT would help me.
I immediately began taking LIFE PLANT; I had not taken one bottle until the eating sensation lessened. I stopped all other treatment, and have taken nothing but LIFE PLANT since.
I realized that I could not be cured of a disease that had been coming on me for years and had reached the stage of development that my case had, by one or two bottles of LIFE PLANT or any other medicine. I settled down to taking this one remedy, and, while I improved from the very beginning, the cancer was not entirely cured for two years.
I began taking LIFE PLANT on or about the 10th day of September, 1897, and now I am 57 years of age, and as well as ever, sound in every particular. There is no more cancer, the sore is entirely healed, and nothing but a scar remains to show that my life was once threatened with a deadly cancer.
Now I want to say that in view of the fact that cancer is one of the most severe and stubborn blood diseases known, and in view of the fact that LIFE PLANT cured me, I firmly believe that LIFE PLANT will cure any disease arising from impure blood if the patient will persist in its use as I did. I have said nothing but the truth, and stand ready to back every word with an affidavit if called upon to do so.
Wishing you success, I am, sincerely yours,

JAMES D. MILLS.

We will pay the expenses of any person or persons from any part of the United States to New Cumberland, Ohio, and award them a reasonable compensation besides, if upon interviewing Mr. Mills they do not find that HE WAS POSITIVELY CURED OF CANCER BY LIFE PLANT, according to his statement above.

Life Plant--An Effective Germicide

LIFE PLANT purifies and cleanses the blood, by expelling those micro-organisms that are the known and direct causes of catarrh, rheumatism, scrofula, eczema and all other diseases of the vital life fluid. These minutest specimens of the animal kingdom permeate the whole system, propagating by thousands, living and thriving on the red corpuscles of the blood until the strength is sapped and one or other of the dread diseases is fully developed.

To destroy the disease the cause must be removed—the germ must be killed. LIFE PLANT is guaranteed to be an active, potent and effective germicide. With unerring force it sweeps from the system the countless little enemies that threaten and destroy the health, it makes new and pure blood, it restores the body to its normal condition of strength. As such an agent LIFE PLANT is positively and absolutely guaranteed.

Cancer is a blood disease. But the germ that causes it preys not only upon the blood, but upon the flesh of the body as well, eating its way through the vital tissues and organs, destroying everything in its path. Impure blood can be purified, but flesh or organs of the body that have been eaten away cannot be restored, hence cancer is known as an incurable disease.

THE LIFE PLANT COMPANY never claimed that LIFE PLANT would cure cancer. In the three cases where the remedy has been tried, however, it has effected positive and permanent cures.

IT SEEMS LOGICAL, THEREFORE, THAT IF LIFE PLANT WILL CURE A CASE OF CANCER OF ELEVEN YEARS' STANDING, WHERE PHYSICIANS HAVE LOST HOPE OF CURING EXCEPT BY MEANS OF UNCERTAIN SURGICAL OPERATION, IT WILL SURELY CURE RHEUMATISM, CATARRH, SCROFULA, ECZEMA AND ALL OTHER DISEASES ARISING FROM BLOOD INFECTED.

If you are suffering with rheumatism, if you have catarrh or any other form of the health-taking blood diseases, get LIFE PLANT today and take it as directed. If it does not positively and permanently cure you, the druggist will refund your money in full. We will pay the druggist—YOU LOSE NOTHING.

In eighteen months we have treated 14,000 cases, with only 347 failures. Thousands of unsolicited testimonials, on file at our office and of free access to all, bear witness to these figures.
